Showdown Nears In Dispute Over Iran Oil Rights

Tehran, Iran, (AP) — Nationalist youths battered down Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. signs here yesterday and Parliament gave Premier Mohammed Mossadegh a unanimous vote of confidence to strengthen his hand in taking over the company's operations.

The showdown probably will come in the next few days at Abadan, the refinery center. There the British expect Iranian Oil Co. officials will ask British technicians to sign agreements acknowledging they are employees of the Iranian government at the same terms they have had under AIOC contracts.

The confidence vote in the Majlis, the lower house of Parliament, was 91 to 0. The outcome promptly killed talk in western quarters that many legislators had cooled off on Mossadegh's "no compromise" stand toward the billion-dollar, British-owned company which has run the Iranian oil industry for 50 years.

The vote in the upper house was 41 to 0. There was one absention in the Majlis; three in the upper house.

With none of the weeping and fainting that customarily marks his public utterances, Mossadegh declared quietly he will "proceed to take over the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. because the country demands it." He implied his Nationalist followers might turn to violence if he lost the vote. There was no debate.

A throng of several thousand Nationalist demonstrations hailed the confidence vote in Parliament square.

(Britain's Parliament, too, met on the oil issue. Deputy Conservative Leader Anthony Eden told the House of Commons a British withdrawal from Iran's oil fields would have a disastrous effect on the rearmament program of western Europe, which gets much of its oil from AIOC pipelines. Capt. Raymond Jones Gunter, a Laborite, declared Iran "is a far greater menace" than Korea to world peace. The British government, which owns 53 per cent of the AIOC stock, telegraphed the International Court of Justice at the Hague a request that Iran be enjoined from taking any steps which might deepen the dispute.)

Street crowds of several hundred cheered as a group of youths in a truck decorated with Iranian flags raided the company's Tehran offices and gasoline service stations yesterday morning, hammering down AIOC signs and replacing them with placards bearing the name of the Iranian National Oil Co., a government agency. Tehran police gave them no opposition.

Eighth Army Patrols Roll Into Kaesong

Tokyo, Friday (AP)—Eighth Army tank-infantry patrols rolled twice into Kaesong, northwestern gateway to Seoul, yesterday as Allied forces girded for a possible limited offensive by Communist troops next Monday on the first anniversary of the Korean war.

The patrols stabbed into the battered highway junction in a driving rain before dawn and again in late afternoon without opposition.

Enemy rifle fire, however, spattered the tanks south of the city on their way back to Allied lines. Infantrymen reported about 1,000 Communists were dug into the hills to the northwest.

Kaesong is four miles south of the 38th parallel and 35 miles northwest of Seoul on the main highway leading to Pyongyang. The last remaining Communist forces south of the old political boundry are in that sector.

Truman Asks Civil Defense Appropriation

Washington, (AP)—President Truman warned yesterday that American cities lie open to "devastating" atomic attacks and asked Congress to raise $535,000,000 for civil defense.

He recommended immediate action on an appropriation bill. "The lives of many millions," Mr. Truman said, "may depend on the development of a strong civil defense program."

The President made a separate request for $870,000 to be used for civil defense in the District of Columbia, where key departments of the government are clustered.

"For the first time in our history, this country faces the threat of a sudden, devastating attack at any time on our major cities," he wrote in a letter to House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex). The letter accompanied his appropriation request.

"We must act on the assumption that the Soviet Union has atomic bombs and that they have the planes that can drop these bombs on our cities.

"Every city, factory, office and home must be organized for civil defense. As long as there is a chance of any kind that atomic bombs may fall on our cities, we can not gamble. We cannot be caught unprepared."

Plane Spotters Plan Exercise

Pennsylvania's 600 aircraft spotter posts will be manned this weekend for a special night exercise in civil defense.

Volunteer spotters throughout the State will take part in the vast practice session to be held throughout the nation.

They'll be on watch for U. S. Air Force planes simulating an attack by an unidentified enemy air force trying to elude detection by radar.

The nationwide exercises will get under way at 9 a.m. Saturday and continue through late Sunday.

Air Force planes will try to get through in the Great Lakes and Pacific coast areas as well as Pennsylvania.

Doughton Thinks $7 Billion Tax Hike Is Maximum

Washington (AP)—A Democratic leader in the House predicted yesterday that the pending $7,200,000 tax increase would be the last big one, but this failed to mollify Republicans. They assailed the bill as "disastrous" and "socialistic."

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the Ways and Means committee opened debate on the record-shattering measure, which is set for a House vote late today.

The bill is urgently needed to finance national defense, Doughton said, but he made plain he believes it is about all the economy can stand, despite President Truman's request for a total increase of $10,000,000,000 or more.

"I consider it unlikely," Doughton said, "that we shall be able to increase substantially the yield of the Federal tax system beyond what is included in the present bill."

New York (AP)—Federal Judge Samuel H. Kaufman yesterday turned down motions of newly arrested Communist party leaders for lower bail.

HST Refused New Controls He Requested

Washington (AP)—Banking committees of both houses of Congress yesterday approved short-term wage, price and rent control bills denying President Truman just about all the broad new powers he says he needs to check inflation.

The Senate group ignored strong administration pleas and wrote into its bill a ban on any future rollbacks that would bring prices below the average of last Jan. 25-Feb. 24.

A few hours later, the House committee completed action on its bill—including a large number of amendments restricting Mr. Truman's control powers rather than broadening them as the President had asked.

Price Stabilizer Michael DiSalle said the Senate rollback restriction "would disrupt and endanger the entire stabilization program" if it became law.

In a brief filed with both banking committees, DiSalle said the provision would cost consumers $2,500,000,000 in price rollbacks presently planned.

The House committee cleared its bill by a vote of 21 to 5 after considering 73 amendments during the day.

One amendment added to the bill would permit war veterans to buy houses under G. I. legislation with down payments of six per cent or less provided the total cost didn't run over $12,000.

Another would require the administration to consult with the House and Senate Armed Services committees before acquiring certain kinds of real estate.

Chairman Spence (D-Ky) of the House group said he would try to get floor consideration of the measure starting next Wednesday.

Neither the House nor the Senate bill came close to giving the President all the authority he appealed for in his radio-television speech last week. The House bill would extend his control powers for one year, the Senate bill for only eight months. Mr. Truman asked a two-year extension.

The final vote in favor of the Senate committee's bill was 12 to 1. Senator Dirksen (R-Ill) cast the only dissenting vote.

Chairman Maybank (D-SC) said he would present the bill to the full Senate today. Debate is scheduled to start Monday, and a heated fight is in prospect. Senator Moody (D-Mich) announced he and others would wage an all-out effort to kill the restriction on rollbacks.

Three Die In Crash Of B-29

Cibolo, Tex., (AP)—A B-29 Superfortress from Randolph field crashed and burned five miles northeast of here yesterday and at least three men were killed.

Three others were seen parachuting from the plane before it crashed on a farm.

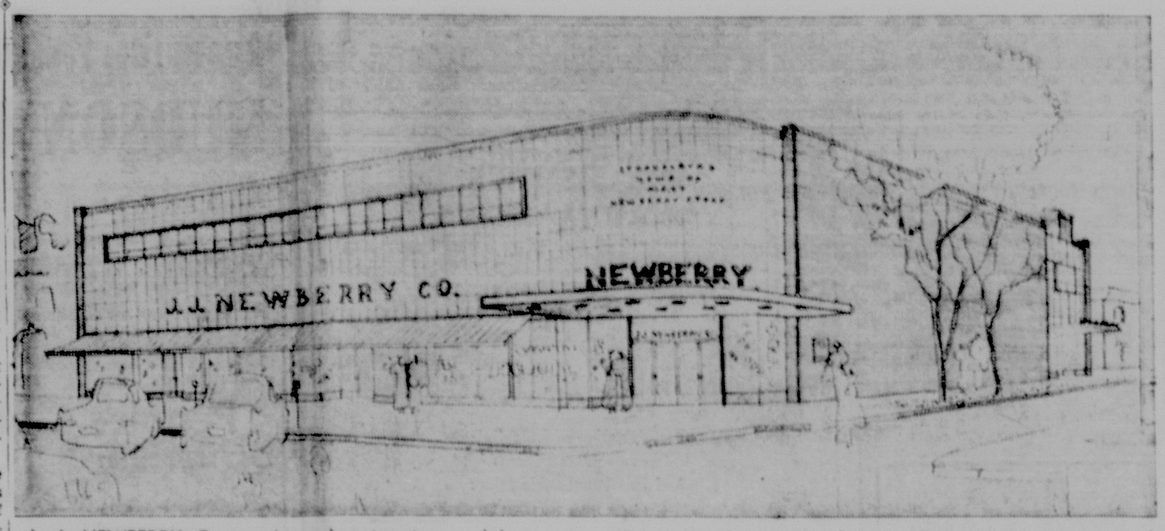

Wreckage of the plane was scattered over a 200-yard area.

The public relations officer at Randolph field, San Antonio, said the plane was from there and that three bodies had been found in the wreckage.

A total of eight were believed to have been on the plane.

Witnesses said the plane circled to go in for a landing at Randolph Air Force base near here, then went back up when an engine caught fire, apparently to permit those aboard to parachute from it.

The plane's left outboard engine was ablaze when it crashed. About three-fourths around the circle for a landing the craft dipped a wing and exploded, witnesses said.

J. J. NEWBERRY Company's modern two-story and basement merchandising center extending from Stroudsburg's N. Sixth and Main St., 99 feet west on Main St. and 121 feet N. on Sixth St., will look like this completed. It replaces the first store started here in 1911 by Mr. Newberry. Demolition has already started on structure now on the site.

Five Naval Fliers Killed

Seattle (AP)—Five of 10 Navy airmen aboard a patrol bomber were killed yesterday when the big, four-engine plane crashed in shallow water of a tide-created mud flat on Puget sound.

Four of the five survivors escaped with minor cuts and bruises. The fifth was seriously injured.

Their names were not immediately available.

The PB4Y2, based at Seattle's Sand Point Naval Air station, plunged into the shoals of Skagit bay on a routine training flight.

The crash scene was approximately 50 miles north of Seattle in the bay.

Wreckage was spread over a wide area, but the bomber's wings remained intact and the five survivors crawled atop them to await rescue by helicopter.

Miner Kills 3 Persons, Then Himself

Uniontown (AP) — Four persons died in blazing bursts of gunfire yesterday as a coal miner ran amuck in a mining community, killing two women and a man before taking his own life.

Det. William J. Long, of Fayette county in southwestern Pennsylvania said the slayer was William Johnson, 51-year-old Negro. Long identified Johnson's victims as Mrs. Frank Shiner, 30; her widowed sister, Mrs. Susie Gaszdo, 34, and Assistant Fire Chief Michael Trocheck, 45. All three were white.

Long said Johnson, the two women and their families all lived in the same house in the small town of Republic, about 12 miles west of Uniontown. The detective could give no reason for the shootings. He reported Johnson suddenly killed the women with a shotgun, ran across the road, threatened a Negro woman, then returned to the house.

He locked himself in and set the structure afire. Volunteer firemen rescued two small children — the only youngsters in the house at the time of the slayings — and brought the fire under control.

Assistant Fire Chief Trocheck then put a ladder against the outside wall just before Johnson's window. Trocheck climbed the ladder and just as his head appeared above the window ledge, a pistol shot rang out. Trocheck fell to the ground, shot in the forehead.

A squad of policemen then poured a barrage of tear gas shells through the windows. The detective said Johnson took his own life with the pistol.

J. J. Newberry Started Chain In Stroudsburg, Serving As Lone Buyer, Stockman, Clerk

J. J. Newberry's first store in Stroudsburg, started by him in 1911, had a staff of one—J. J. Newberry. He did all the work, buying, stocking, selling and everything else that goes into operating a store.

In 1919 he entered into partnership with his brother and their combined merchandising skill has created a great enterprise comprising 479 stores in 45 states.

Now chairman of the board, Mr. Newberry is still personally active in his business, either working at his desk daily, directing in great detail operations of the stores, or out visiting personally the many units which give daily public service in merchandising.

Born of sturdy, resourceful English and Dutch parents in middle-eastern Pennsylvania, he soon drew from them the sense of self reliance, which in his case drove him to the ambitious plan of creating a great sale organization.

Now numbered among the many leading Americans who went from humble beginnings to noteworthy success, Mr. Newberry was a young boy when he entered the business world running errands for a store. Later he became a clerk and then joined the S. H. Kress Co., one of the first 5-10 and 25-cent retail businesses.

Similarly, C. T. Newberry, his brother, started his career with F. W. Woolworth, elevating himself to buyer and executiveship in the New York Woolworth office as superintendent of buyers.

J. J. Newberry developed a sound knowledge of many phases of merchandising, and soon received a buyer's position.

Using his own savings, he started the Stroudsburg store and served as manager, buyer, floor walker, stockman and general complete staff of one in his first 5 and 10-cent store. Soon he was employing clerks and in a year and a half he opened his second store, employing J. L. Boughner, who later became a vice president, now deceased, as manager. The chain had started and is now nationwide.

Big Four Talks In Paris Break Up In Failure

Paris (AP)—The deputy foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and Russia last night broke off their efforts to write a program for a Big Four conference to ease world tension.

The deputies' talks, which began March 5, came to a dramatic end last night after a vituperative two-hour and 40-minute speech by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. The three western deputies had told their Russian colleague that, after 16 weeks and 74 meetings in the ornate pink palace here, they had enough.

But they left the door open for their governments to make one last attempt to arrange a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers, which has been suggested for July 23 in Washington.

State Closes Cernobyl Case

Allentown (AP) — The Commonwealth yesterday closed its case against Jack L. Cernobyl, 17, charged with murder in the fatal beating of Army Sgt. Raymond S. Noll, with the reading of Cernobyl's signed confession aloud to the jury.

District Attorney Kenneth H. Koch read the statement in which the accused youth charged Noll drove him and Stanley Marvin Jr., 20, a co-defendant, to the airport just outside the city for homosexual purposes last March 24.

The confession also stated that Cernobyl and Marvin later beat the soldier unconscious, robbed him and left him in the rear of Noll's convertible in an isolated section of the city.

Report Warned Against Russia Entering War

Washington, (AP) — Senator Bridges (R-NH) said last night a group of top military intelligence specialists apparently warned in April, 1945, that bringing Russia into the war against Japan would destroy China and end in tragedy for Korea.

Bridges submitted a purported copy of the group's report at a late session of the Senate inquiry into the firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as Far East commander.

"It came from a person who stated that Secretary of State Acheson had misinformed the committee when he stated that the Army was most anxious to get the Russians into the war against Japan," Bridges said. "This individual stated the exact opposite was true."

Acheson had testified earlier at the Senate inquiry that the United States wanted Russia to enter the war against Japan because it was feared that it might cost 1,000,000 American casualties to invade the Japanese home islands.

It was in return for Russia's agreement to enter the Far Pacific conflict that secret concessions in the Orient were made to Soviet Premier Stalin at the Yalta conference in February, 1945.

Earlier in yesterday's session, Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley testified that President Roosevelt assigned him in 1945 to try to soften the terms of the Yalta pact.

But after Roosevelt died, Hurley said, the State department blocked his efforts.

Russia, Chinese Increase Trade

Moscow, (AP)—Communist China and Soviet Russia have agreed to increase significantly this year the various materials they send each other under a 1950 trade pact, the government announced yesterday.

Western moves to cut off strategic supplies to China may have been a considerable factor in negotiation of the new agreement, signed here last Saturday in an atmosphere Moscow newspapers described as one of "friendly, mutual understanding."

Unquestionably, the apparent determination of the western nations to halt the flow of many items to China was one of the matters taken up during the talks.

Eccles Quits Federal Post

Washington, (AP)—Marriner S. Eccles resigned as a governor of the Federal Reserve system yesterday. He had been at odds with the Truman administration's economic policies for a long time.

A wealthy Utah financier, Eccles was one of the last top New Deal figures remaining in government. He first came to Washington 17 years ago, and he was chairman of the Federal Reserve board until President Truman demoted him in 1948.

Eccles' letter of resignation—effective July 14—and the President's letter accepting it were couched in formal terms that appeared to reflect coolness between them.

Eccles said "the time has arrived when I can and should return to my (Salt Lake City) home and private business affairs in the West." Mr. Truman skipped the usual expression of thanks to a retiring official but wished Eccles "happiness and continued success."

Mysterious Woman Sobs During Trial

Tunkhannock (AP) — Loud sobs and hysterical crying of a snappily-dressed "mystery woman" for a time yesterday, disrupted the trial of Charles E. Homeyer, lonely hearts lover accused of murdering his fifth wife.

District Attorney Robert C. Trembath called the woman to testify, announcing the name "Gertrude Edwards" but she refused to go forward, even when a State trooper urged her. Instead, she stood by a window and her whole body shook with sobs. A few minutes previously Homeyer had recognized her in the crowded court room and given her a smile, his first show of emotion since the trial began Monday morning.

No indication of the woman's home address or what her testimony would be was given but reporters were given to understand in a roundabout way that she was Homeyer's fourth wife.

He is accused of killing his fifth wife, Anna Snellman Homeyer, at their Factoryville home in late March, 1950, and dismembering her body to hide the crime.

Increases Voted

Washington (AP) — The Senate yesterday passed a bill which would raise the federal share of social security payments by $233,624,000 a year and bring a $5-a-month increase in grants to the aged.

Recommend Citations

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Contempt citations against former Miami Sheriff Jimmy Sullivan and one-time Capone mobster Leo Accardo were recommended yesterday by the U. S. Senate Crime committee.

Modern New Building To Be Erected

Demolition work on buildings located on the J. J. Newberry property extending from Sixth St. west to the E. A. Bell building on the north side of Main St. started yesterday to make way for a modern, attractive appointed two-story and basement store building which will replace J. J. Newberry's first store, started here in 1911.

Contract for the new building has been awarded to the Esch Construction Co., Cleveland, O. Demolition work of the existing buildings has been sub-contracted and is scheduled to be completed in about 40 working days.

Mr. Newberry, now chairman of the board of J. J. Newberry Co., started his store here in 1911. Present store is located at 622 Main St. In 1913 and subsequent years similar stores were opened in other communities. The enterprise was conducted by Mr. Newberry individually or in partnership with his brother C. T. Newberry until organization of the corporation on Feb. 15, 1923.

The corporation and its subsidiaries operate 479 retail stores in 45 states with approximately 16,000 to 35,000 items carried, depending on the size of the store.

Mr. Newberry has been interested for many reasons in erecting a large modern store here, not the least of which were sound business reasons and sentiment based on the fact the great merchandising enterprise had its beginnings here.

The new building will have a frontage on Main St. of 99 feet with a depth of 121 feet on N. Sixth St. It will be of fireproof construction throughout.

Exterior will be of contemporary designs, with the Main St. portion of the building faced with glazed terra cotta. The N. Sixth St. facade will present a solid face brick wall rising 34 feet above the sidewalk. Aluminum windows on Main St. will provide light and air to stock room on second floor level.

A stainless steel marquee, gracefully curved about the Sixth St. corner of the building will be the dominating ornamental feature on the exterior.

The store front will be built of polished granite bulkhead with aluminum glazing members and polished plate glass. An expansive modern corner entrance at Sixth and Main with visual doors will be provided, supplemented by two additional Main St. entrances, and one on N. Sixth St.

Show windows will be lighted by concealed fluorescent lighting and incandescent spotlighting to show merchandise under natural conditions.

Upon entering the store one will find a beautiful spacious interior decorated in pastel colors. There will be modern aluminum sales stairs conveniently placed for shoppers desiring to enter the downstairs sales area.

On the first floor there will be a restaurant with a 60-foot long lunch counter containing the latest sanitary stainless steel equipment having seating facilities for 30 persons. A complete sanitary kitchen will be provided adjacent to lunch counter and will contain latest equipment for serving home cooked meals and pastries.

There will be a mezzanine office at the rear of the first floor salesroom to handle store and personnel matters.

In the downstairs salesroom there will be a large public lounge and toilet facilities. Completely modern store fixtures with chrome displays will be used throughout. There will be a total of 2,900 lineal feet of counter.

The first floor will be finished with a polished marble terrazzo floor and the downstairs will be furnished in modern asphalt tiles. Floor colors have been selected to harmonize with the store fixtures.

First floor will have a ceiling height of 15 feet and the downstairs salesroom will have nine and a half foot ceiling.

Both sales areas will be equipped with separate year-round air conditioning systems, providing filtered refrigerated air in the summer months and tempered filtered air in the heating season. These systems have been designed to give shoppers and store personnel the utmost comfort.

A feature of the sales floors will be the continuous fluorescent lighting which has been designed to give shadowless illumination over the entire store.

The second floor will be devoted to stock space and rest room facilities for store personnel. A spacious ladies lounge will be completely air conditioned and equipped with

Fine Attempts Back-Home Pressure Of Foes Of Tax Program; Walker Charges 'Reprisal'

Harrisburg (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine yesterday put back-home pressure on General Assembly opponents of any new taxes.

"Reprisal," promptly cried Sen. John M. Walker, Republican Senate leader and an arch foe of all-but-dead State income tax.

Walker commented on a telegram Fine sent to Pittsburgh that opponents of new taxes "continue to play fast and loose with their commitments on worthy projects" in the State.

The developments came as the General Assembly ended the 25th week of the 1951 session without any signs of agreement on the tax-budget impasse.

The Governor sent this telegram to Arthur B. VanBuskirk, Pittsburgh:

"You have every right to expect that the 'governor and the members of the Legislature will fulfill their commitments—.' I shall do my utmost to keep mine. I disavow any responsibility for any failure of the Legislature to keep its commitments. Certain members of the Senate, including four from your county, continue to play fast and loose with their commitments on worthy projects like Point Park and its kind. I would deplore the absence of necessary revenues to continue any worthwhile project to which the State is committed. Obviously available revenues must first be allocated and applied to matters of necessary human needs."

Walker, in the Senate at the time the telegram was given out, immediately dictated this statement to reporters:

"It is true that five (not four) of the Senators from Allegheny county are in opposition to the suggested flat income tax.

"I gather from the releases of the Governor's office that appropriations will be awarded as political plums. I still think the unnecessary appropriations should be cut first and projects approved on their merits.

"Thirty-two members of the Senate are convinced it can be done. It is a deplorable thing if their districts are to be punished by this reprisal method."

A dozen GOP Senators and the solid block of 20 Democratic Senators are opposing the Governor's House-passed one-half of one per cent income tax or any other new levy. The Governor insisted the $119,000,000 income levy is needed to balance the State's $1,200,000,000 budget.

Elderly Man Overcome By Hot Weather

Harry Dreher, about 80, of 21 N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg, was overcome by yesterday's stifling heat as he crossed Main St., in front of the Colonial diner at 3 p. m.

Passersby, who noticed the ailing man, placed him in a chair which was brought to the curb, and police and Monroe County General hospital were notified.

When the hospital advised Stroudsburg State police substation that the ambulance was out on a patient call in the Sciota area, Pfc Stephen Sabin enlisted the aid of a motorist who drove the unconscious man to the hospital.

The elderly victim was partially revived as the car, an open convertible, proceeded toward the hospital.

At the hospital, he responded to medical treatment and was later discharged.

Mr. Transue has operated his business in this region for many years. The U. S. Royal Tire franchise award has been followed with a complete stock of all sizes and types of the famous tire.

The Federal Reserve Bank in Philadelphia, serving this region, said yesterday that for the first time since last July, the number of production workers in Pennsylvania factories declined slightly, with 1,195,000 employed in May.

Seasonal slackness and reduced demand in some of the soft goods industries accounted for the rather large declines in that division of four per cent in employment, five per cent in payrolls, and six per cent in working time.

Compared with a year ago, however, employment, payrolls, and working time were higher by 10, 25 and 12 per cent. Durable goods industries accounted for 60 per cent of the number employed currently, and reported increases considerably above the aggregate. An advance of 16 cents in average hourly earnings in the year and a slightly longer work week raised weekly earnings $7.76 above a year ago.

MAID OF THE MIST

The Budget Impasse

The new fiscal period for Pennsylvania State Government started 22 days ago. But we're still no closer to a State Budget for the next two years than we were then.

Governor Fine still is insisting on the $1,220,000,000 budget he presented to the Legislature, and a State income tax —or some other new tax—to raise 119 million dollars of that sum.

Senator Montgomery F. Crowe, (R-Monroe) and 11 other Republicans in the State Senate who blocked the income tax bill, still are standing pat. Together with 20 Democratic senators, they can and will—according to their last word—continue to block the tax.

Nineteen other Republican senators apparently are willing to go along with the Governor. But they're a minority of the Senate.

The Senate isn't likely to get any budget if this continues. Somebody's got to agree to a compromise. And The Daily Record suggests that that somebody is Governor Fine.

To ask the people of Pennsylvania to pay a new income tax before the budget has been cleaned of all fat and before revenue estimates are upped to the point where they belong is arbitrary and capricious.

If Governor Fine stands pat, perhaps the deadlock will continue. But in time, even his own supporters should see the wisdom of making the State Government live within its means when that is clearly possible.

Enforcement the Key

Pennsylvania will have laid effective groundwork for battling the dope traffic if a bill just passed by the House of Representatives is approved by the Senate and Governor. But real enforcement will continue to be the key.

One of the sponsors is a Pittsburgh physician, a Democrat, Dr. George D. Sarraf. The second is a Philadelphia Republican, Louis Sax.

Stiff fines and prison sentences are provided by this measure. Penalties would be graduated according to offense. For the first conviction, the maximum would be $2000 fine or three years in jail or both. For the third, the fine would be $6000 and jail term 7½ to 15 years.

But all the laws in the world won't curtail the illicit traffic of greedy peddlers unless there is good local enforcement. There might even be question whether any new laws are needed even now—but they won't hurt and may help.

The insidious traffic has spread widely in recent months; unusual numbers of school children have been enmeshed, especially in the large cities. If the evil is to be eliminated or minimized in Pennsylvania, police, courts and others will have to cooperate.

Extra Care

This is the time of the year when police, motorists, and auto clubs get the jitters—and when frequent and forceful warnings are given to drivers to be more than usually careful.

Thousands of youngsters are on summer-long vacations. Some of them continue to play on the street; more bicycle riders travel the busy highways; more boys and girls are crossing streets on errands and for purposes of their own.

Parental instruction and solicitude in keeping their children from the streets when consistently possible are of benefit; children need to remember safety lessons they have been taught and to remain alert at all times.

But regardless of all other safeguards, motorists do well to exert those extra ounces of care that help, more especially in areas where children are apt to play or to run into streets.

The summer accident toll among children is always regrettably high. Only constant watchfulness and care will prevent its zooming.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Producer Harry Kurnitz (who signs his mystery novels "Marco Page") reports that one MGM executive is so unstrung by international uncertainties, every time he dines at the commissary they forcibly remove his necktie and shoelaces.

Kurnitz ran into a bit of trouble on his own account on Wilshire Boulevard recently. He tried sneaking past a red traffic light and was immediately apprehended by not one, but two motorcycles cops. As they closed in for the third degree, the dear, dear girl accompanying Kurnitz made everything ducky for him by crying, "I'm sick of this eternal running away! Let's shoot it out with them now!"

Surprise: the Soviet Supreme Council voted unanimously to continue Josef Stalin as Premier. Walter Kieran labeled it, "the biggest upset since Hitler raised his own salary."

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood -- Things that happen only in Movieland: Columbia Pictures is auditioning voices to do the narrating for an unborn baby. The infant is the central character and story-teller even before he arrives, in this Bob Cummings - Barbara Hale domestic comedy . . .

Starlet Jody Lawrence received the week's most unusual gift —an ear from a bull. Curro Caro, prominent Spanish bullfighter, sent her this token of esteem after a recent Tijuana bout in which he was injured. He'd met her, Burt Lancaster, and Gilbert Roland during a visit on their movie set here . . .

Television men got together the other night for a post-mortem on their strikingly successful coverage of MacArthur's arrival at San Francisco. Eleven California stations pooled their efforts to bring the spectacle to 5,000,000 viewers. The 100 engineers averaged three hours' sleep daily for four days. They lived mainly on cheese sandwiches and aspirin. San Francisco issued some 400 press passes, but 800 newsmen jammed the field at arrival time. TV, finding itself maneuvered off a big truck-bed provided for photographers, wangled a baggage truck for one of its cameras. Then video men had literally to fight off interlopers. TV Director Jim Jordan, son of radio's Fibber McGee and Molly, voiced high praise for the announcer who graphically described the plane's landing. In the last-minute crush the mike-man couldn't even see the craft. Jordan, who could see it, told him over the earphones what the camera was picking up.

Alan Young raves over his role in "Aaron Slick from Punkin Crick": "Heretofore I've always been the Best Friend — or the Best Friend's Best Friend. In this one I'm a bumpkin, but I have love scenes. I get to kiss her (Dinah Shore) five times!"

Baritone Robert Merrill, who's in the same picture while in a hassle over his Metropolitan Opera contract, hopes it works out. His ideal course, he said, would be two movies a year, a concert tour — and the Met season . . .

These Days -- By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

Steel

The principal element in the war potential of any country is, in these days, steel capacity. The real power of the United States rests upon the fact that it has the plant and raw materials to produce 96,696,000 tons of steel every year. As compared to the United States, Soviet Russia has a capacity of 26,500,000 tons. It is, however, important to note that while Soviet Russia produced no steel in 1917, it is now in second place. Furthermore, in a totalitarian country, the government is in a position to use the entire output of any commodity without the slightest regard to consumers' necessities.

Comparing the western powers with the Soviet satellites, these are the figures:

Western Powers

| | Tons |
|---|---|
| United States | 96,696,000 |
| United Kingdom | 18,078,000 |
| Western Germany | 13,101,000 |
| France | 9,108,000 |
| Japan | 4,970,000 |
| Belgium | 3,863,000 |
| Canada | 3,270,000 |
| Luxemburg | 2,560,000 |
| Italy | 2,503,000 |
| Saar | 1,925,000 |
| Australia | 1,519,000 |
| | 157,593,000 |

Soviet States

| | Tons |
|---|---|
| U.S.S.R. | 26,500,000 |
| Czechoslovakia | 2,850,000 |
| Poland | 2,525,000 |
| Hungary | 875,000 |
| Austria (?) | 1,017,000 |
| | 33,767,000 |

If to this total is added the 1,071,000 tons of Sweden, a country that Soviet Russia can seize quickly, the total can be raised to 34,838,000.

Suppose Russia were able to take all the steel production on the continent of Europe, it would come to 68,802,000 tons, still considerably under Anglo-American production. This, however, presupposes that no European and no American plants would be bombed out of existence. Actually, it must be assumed that the whole of the Western European industry would be bombed out of existence as soon as war started and that some of our plants would suffer.

The steel production of the Anglo-American group alone amounts to:

| | Tons |
|---|---|
| United States | 96,696,000 |
| United Kingdom | 18,078,000 |
| Canada | 3,270,000 |
| Australia | 1,519,000 |
| | 119,563,000 |

No matter how you look at these figures, the United States has, during the past six years of the cold war, produced roughly 50 per cent of the total steel production of the world which is 194,154,0000 tons.

When it comes to availability of the raw material, iron ore, 75 per cent of the known, usable supply is held by five countries, the United States, France, Sweden, Great Britain and Soviet Russia, with the United States far in the lead, and with nearby Canada fast moving into the field. The Mesabi range of Minnesota and Michigan iron mountains have produced year after year between one-fifth and one-fourth of the world's supply. The Birmingham, Alabama, ore-field is very important. New fields are being developed in Chile, Venezuela and Brazil.

The importance of this data lies in the single fact that the United States can continue to hold its lead as a world power, in spite of the astonishing errors of its policy-makers, as long as it is able to continue to hold the lead in steel.

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Lieut. Gen. Albert Wedemeyer was being polite when he described the sell-out of China to the Russians at Yalta as a blunder. He had listened to Secretary of State Dean Acheson describe how Defense Secretary George C. Marshall and the State department convinced the late President Roosevelt that Russia had to be given control of China so she could aid us in the assault on the Japanese homeland.

Acheson said he didn't know about Japanese peace feelers in 1944-45 and explained that along with Marshall he feared we would take a terrific drubbing if we jumped on Japan alone in the closing months of the war. All of which is poppycock. Washington knew that Japan was looking desperately for a way out.

One of the big secrets of the Pacific war was the fact that we had broken the Japanese diplomatic code. This was accomplished early in the war and it enabled this government to keep track of almost every big deal the Japs had cooking with other nations. In fact a lot of Japs lost their lives because our cryptographic experts were able to decipher coded messages.

In late 1944 and early 1945 the Japs had been pounded to pieces, our military leaders now admit, and her political leaders were snooping around trying to figure out a way to get out of the mess. They appealed to Russian and Swiss representatives. The Japs wanted our Soviet allies to ask us what kind of surrender terms we would settle for.

The Russians never bothered to pass along the information to the Pentagon or the State department, since they wanted in the worst way to get into the Jap war to claim some of the booty. But Marshall and Acheson knew all about those surrender feelers. So did Gen. Douglas MacArthur and probably Chiang Kai-shek.

The reason everybody knew the Japs were ready to quit is that every time they sent a message to Moscow, squealing for help, we intercepted and decoded it.

That was done at the Pentagon and it was done at Gen. MacArthur's headquarters in the Pacific. The reason I know is that military aides in his headquarters have told me so.

Despite this, Marshall and the State department pumped Roosevelt full of boloney about how badly we needed Russia in the Japanese war, so he was softened up as an easy touch for Stalin. Of course, Stalin had told Cordell Hull in 1943 that he would come into the Japanese war anyway, without any demands. American Communists were smarter than Stalin on this one. They fixed it up so Roosevelt was completely sold on the idea that we had to hand over half of China before they would help us out. As it was, they were in the war only 10 days before the Japs called it quits.

Neither Gen. MacArthur nor Chiang Kai-shek was invited to Yalta where the sell-out was confirmed. They knew too much about how punchy the Japs were and both would have balked at bribing the Russians with Chinese territory.

So when Acheson and Marshall try and get by with the lame excuse that we had to hand over chunks of China to get Russia in the war they are talking down a wind tunnel. The idea they are trying to peddle is that Japan was still strong and would exact a half-million American casualties before we could have captured the home islands. In fact, they insist Japan was still full of fight in 1945.

If they are right then the Army Air force and the Navy didn't accomplish much and our interceptions of the Japanese peace messages, as a result of having cracked the Nip code, were meaningless.

The fact is that we shortened the Pacific war by many months because we had the Nips' code secrets .

State department and military officials in Washington ignored the Japanese peace feelers when it came time to deal with Stalin at Yalta. If they wanted to give Russia something just out of affection for the Soviet Union they should step up now and say so. We ought to know all of the Russian buddies in this country.

All we get from them now is that they are great haters of the Soviet way of life. Either they have changed their views about Russia or they were too stupid to understand that Japan was ready to call it quits long before Russia was bribed to enter the fray. The Japs admitted it—on the record—both at MacArthur's headquarters and in Washington. Yet we got sold out at Yalta, along with China. And the senators let them wiggle out of confessing their blunder.

Of the many unusual communications I receive this is one of the most unusual.

Just a newspaper clipping, apparently from one of the columns.

With it a little slip of paper.

This is what the clipping says:

"Man, proud man,
Drest in a little brief authority,
Most ignorant of what he's most assured.
His glassy essence, like an angry ape,
Plays such fantastic tricks before high heaven,
As make the angels weep.
—Shakespeare."

That's all for the clipping.

The slip that came with it was typewritten.

The content: "Do you know WHO?"

The signature: "Disillusioned Democrat."

The whole thing intrigued me. Did I know whom the sender had in mind? I think I do.

The quotation seemed familiar, but I couldn't place it. I looked all through my Shakespeare to find in what play and in what connection he wrote it. I haven't found it yet—but I found others that seem to indicate that Shakespeare was not only a poet but a prophet as well.

Most certainly he was a philosopher, who knew human nature —that never changing, mysterious element.

May I make one thing clear: Any resemblance to a living person or persons in these quotations will depend strictly on your own interpretation.

If the shoe fits anyone whom or of whom you know—blame it on Shakespeare, not me.)

Here is one from Romeo and Juliet:

"Taffeta phrases, silken terms precise,
Three-piled hyperboles, spruce affectation,
Figures pedantical; these summer flies
Have blown me full of maggot ostentation."

This one from Julius Caesar:

"Lowliness is young ambition's ladder,
Whereto the climber upwards turns his face;
But when he once obtains the upmost round,
He then unto the ladder turns his back,
Looks in the clouds, scorning the base degrees
By which he did ascend."

From Othello:

"When rich villains have need of poor ones,
Poor ones may make what price they will."

From Coriolanus:

"There's a great spirit gone! Thus did I desire it:
what our contempts do often hurl from us,
We wish it ours again."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Whither Bound, Video?

The doctors who examine prize fighters before the bout are examing the wrong people. They should examine the video set owners. The limiting of the telecast of the Louis-Savold fight to theaters only and the decision to take the same routine with the next big heavyweight bout has the fireside fight followers groggier than Louis or Savold ever were. They are staggering around, glassy-eyed and wigwagging for help. With football about to limit telecasts, and with all sports promoters studying the theater idea, it is possible the sports world menu on which the American living room will have to feed will be extra sparse.

There are pessimists who fear all they will be able to get from video may be programs in which Howdy Doody wrestles Garroway-at-Large, fights are limited to five rounds between Uncle Miltie and We The People, and the fall football battles are between teams made up of Groucho Marx's guests and Mrs. Roosevelt's panels.

Is video to continue as a funnel for the free show or will the set soon be a combination slot machine, phone booth and tambourine? What are the possibilities that Faye Emerson may ultimately be visible only in chain nickolets, that Berle will use his seltzer bottle routine only for people who put coins in a slot and that puppets will be available only as part of the telephone service?

Radio was always "for free," but its child, Video, has taken over in so many fields that the "gate" has been blitzed, confronting the business office with the problem of collecting from the armchair audience. The outdoor fight promoters were first to take matters in hand by limiting a fight broadcast to a group of chain movie houses. The "videots" resent the "no dough no show" routine and another little world war is in the making. The television audience has come to regard video as its "knothole on the world." And it doesn't like the idea of the hole being plugged up.

Ideas for the pay-as-you-enter system on video are busting out all over. First there was "phone-vision" through which a scrambled telecast is unscrambled and the charge put on the phone bill. Then came a device to be bought and attached to the video set. And there are numerous ideas for coin slots on the machines. A video set with built-in derby hat, to be passed automatically, is probably in a blueprint stage somewhere. (The ideal video set, which Elmer Twitchell has in mind, will have cash register attachments, a complete price list of major events and a miniature icebox enabling a videot to get a cold beer without leaving the picture.)

"Look what that television set cost me last month!" people may soon be screaming. "We have got to scrimp on some of these telecasts or go bankrupt." Or "How come there are charges for four football games on this month's bill? I only saw three."

There will be many headaches before the problem is solved. Personally, we favor leaving football, baseball and fights on the video free-show menu and putting the puppets, cooking lessons and panels in the chain theaters.

The Real News Newsreel

Monty Woolley is marching around Yale in a reunion costume. Class of 1911, too! . . . Now that Irene Bordoni, famed over the years as an operetta star, is in the show, why not call it "Strauss-Pacific?" . . . Maybe that Jap sailor who just decided the war was over came to that conclusion because Harry Truman hadn't written anybody a letter in several months. . . . The Bayer Aspirin people recently advertised a headache . . . Milton Berle is now a musical comedy producer. This shows he has so much money it has ceased to be important. . . . Ringling Brothers Circus back in Connecticut in force for the first time since the Hartford fire is breaking all circus records there. Has to close the general admission ticket wagon long before showtime. . . K. K. L. thinks the winner of the Louis-Savold bout should be matched to fight Tony Galento.

Success Of Laurel Festival Presages Bigger Affair In 1952

Revival Of Celebration Shows Profit

Revival of the Laurel Blossom Time Festival in the Poconos—climaxed Wednesday night with a coronation ball—not only showed a profit, according to a check of incomplete returns yesterday, but provided the basis for report from Walter Fossa, who so ably carried out details of the affair, to Vacation Bureau directors.

This report will deal with every phase of the show and together with proceeds will form the basis for a long-range planning program for a 1952 festival patterned in many respects after the elaborate affairs of the early 1930s when Laurel Time observance was inaugurated in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Fossa said in at least one respect this year's affair was an interesting experiment. It proved Laurel ball can be a success on sheer publicity in newspapers, radio and by mail. He pointed out "no tickets were peddled, no one was penalized to buy tickets, no pressures were applied."

"It was a real test of whether Pocono Mountains businessmen in every category really wanted Laurel time promoted," he said. "While many weaknesses were discovered, the response was so excellent that solicited sales and pressure sales would have created a tremendous crush," he added.

Mr. Fossa said that this year's effort means that next year a three-week Laurel Blossom Festival can be an event talked about all over United States and Canada.

"It can be done, but every businessman from the small fellow right up to the big ones must give it some time and money," he declared. "Vacation dollars pay off to everyone, so the more dollars go into such a project the more prosperity results. It's as simple as that."

Miss Ruth Hussey, who will star next week in "The Royal Family" at Pocono Playhouse, Mountainhome, said it was "so much fun to have been a part of the celebration". She is the official Pocono Laurel Queen for 1951.

Ted Malone, the ABC commentator who crowned Miss Hussey, not only said he will mention the Poconos over ABC Sunday, July 1 at 2:45 p.m., but offered his services for any event in this region.

It is interesting to know what a strain the professional models who worked the fashion show were under. They worked all that hot Wednesday in New York, skipped to Les Drake's big airport cab and arrived at Shawnee ten minutes ahead of their appearance time.

Without eating they went on their modeling duty here and left immediately afterwards for New York.

Fran Gardner, coordinator for Percy Lembke's "Fashions by Joyce" which made the show possible, did a great job of keeping the show rolling after a long day in New York.

Mr. Fossa paid tribute to the great work and time given by Tom Waring and the LaBar Rhododendron nursery experts and crew in setting up the background for the Queen's throne.

Adolph Rake Campaigns For Commissioner

W. A. (Adolph) Rake, owner and operator of A. L. Rake & Son, local builders, said yesterday he will make an aggressive campaign for the Republican nomination for county commissioner in Monroe county.

Mr. Rake is a graduate of East Stroudsburg High school, where he was active in basketball and baseball.

His firm was engaged in the building of the new General hospital addition, one of the most recent of many construction projects in which he has been engaged.

Mr. Rake has been working since an early age and during High school days kept books for his father's building firm. He left college to work and start his own building firm in New York City and White Plains, N. Y., at the age of 21, as an apprentice to earn his way through school.

Returning to East Stroudsburg he started the firm of A. L. Rake & Son, estimating and securing first contract for that firm—the East Stroudsburg Municipal building—in 1926.

During the past 25 years, Mr. Rake has provided the estimate for bidding some 12 millions of dollars worth of construction work. He has completed 6,000 jobs, large and small. Many of the county's finest homes, the Stroudsburg Municipal building, addition to the Court house and Middle Smithfield township school were in these projects.

Mr. Rake is a property owner and taxpayer in both Stroudsburgs and townships. He also has a farming interest in the region.

Both on his father's and mother's side, he steps from pioneers ranging back to Virginia settlers in 1654. His son, W. A. Rake Jr., is a student at University of Pennsylvania.

This is Mr. Rake's first bid for public office.

Contractors Authorized To Build Canopy

Stroudsburg council last night authorized contractors in charge of demolition of the structures now on the site of the new J. J. Newberry store to construct a canopy over sidewalks both on N. Sixth St. and Main St.

The canopy on N. Sixth St. will run to the end of the demolition point and some 99 feet on Main St. to allow free flow of pedestrians under a protective cover during operations. The protective canopy is to be erected under supervision of Borough Engineer Edward C. Hess.

Council also agreed to rent two parking meter spaces on N 7th St. to Stroudsburg Kiwanis club to allow people to park to view a huge electric map sign of the Poconos Mountain region which the club has purchased. Rental was fixed at $10 a year per meter.

The sign will be erected on the side of Stroudsburg Security Trust Co. building and will serve visitors and others seeking directions to specific points and spots. It will also show visitors just what recreational points are available to them Winter and Summer.

Council adjourned to meet in regular session again on July 9.

You Can Count On Coal

THE BCI states that recently Eric Johnson warned the United States that we might shortly feel the pinch of civilian shortages.

But on the list of possible shortages there was no mention of COAL. This year coal will provide heat for eighteen million homes and also fill the mounting demands of economic mobilization. But no coal shortage is forseen. Coal mines continue to work with ever increasing efficiency, largely as a result of investment in new power tools for mines.

And now, when the job of rearming calls for more and better coal the coal operators are prepared to meet every foreseeable demand, come peace or war.

Truck Strikes Culvert But Driver Unhurt

A truck owned by the Shiffer Bituminous Service, of Stroudsburg, was extensively damaged at 8:05 a. m. yesterday when it hit a culvert and overturned on Dreher Ave., at the borough line.

The load of stone dust in the vehicle was spilled on the highway and at the roadside, but Howard Buzzard, 46, of Stroudsburg RD 2, driver of the truck, escaped uninjured.

According to Stroudsburg borough police, Buzzard was traveling east on Dreher Ave. when he pulled to the right side of the highway where the right rear wheel under the loaded dump-type box struck a culvert.

This collision threw the truck out of control and it tipped over on the macadam pavement. Buzzard miraculously was unhurt, although he reportedely remained in the cab as the vehicle rolled over.

Chief James McConnell, who investigated, said Officer William Dwyer, of the Stroudsburg force, was the first to reach the overturned truck. Officer Dwyer told him he ran to the cab to see if the driver was pinned inside, but that Buzzard made his way out of the other side of the upset vehicle at that moment.

Dwyer, off duty at the time and driving his own pleasure car, had passed the truck going east on Dreher Ave. and was approximately 50 yards ahead of the truck when he heard a crash as the truck struck the culvert.

He stopped his car and ran back when he looked in his rear view mirror and saw the truck overturn.

Chief McConnell said the culvert was concealed from Buzzard's view by high grass growing along the edge of the highway. The two tires on the right rear of the dump truck blew out and threw the heavy load off balance, he said.

Stroudsburg State police said last night that they also have completed an investigation of the mishap. They set damages to the truck in the neighborhood of $1,200.

Jail Releases Truck Driver

George Homan, 26-year-old Sugar Loaf, Pa., truck driver, was released from Monroe county jail yesterday on expiration of an 18-day sentence.

Homan was arrested June 3 by Stroudsburg State police who charged him with driving without a license and driving an overweight load.

Salvation Army Needs Funds To Send Children To Camp

Supplemental funds are urgently needed to send a group of underprivileged children under training by the local Salvation Army to summer encampment.

Some of the clubs of the community, conducting drives among their members have obtained some funds at the request of Major May Adam. However, more money is needed.

First group of 20 children is due to leave for Camp Ai-Yuk-Pa near Forks, Pa., for ten days of recreation, training in crafts and Bible study. It costs $12.50 per child for ten days.

Two more groups are scheduled to go if funds are available. Both will number around 20 each.

Funds should be sent or taken to the Salvation Army in East Stroudsburg for this worthy cause.

Candidates Draw For Positions On Primary Ballots

Drawing for position on the ballot for the primary elections on July 24 has been completed by the Monroe county election board, Mrs. Myrtle Butz, clerk of the board, announced yesterday.

Forrest J. Mervine, solicitor for county commissioners and the board, conducted the drawing with most of the county office candidates present. Those unable to attend sent persons authorized to draw positions for them.

Drawings started with the candidates for county commissioner, both Republican and Democrat, and carried down through the lower township and election district offices where ever contests were apparent.

On the Republican side, their six candidates for commissioner drew for position as follows: (1) Francis L. Brodhead, (2) W. Adolph Rake, (3) Harry D. Kresge, (4) Joseph S. Price, (5) Russell H. Minich, and (6) Amzi F. Altemose.

The two Republican candidates for auditor drew with John W. Wernett taking the first place, and Mrs. Mary Emma Teeter Garcia the second.

In the Republican contest for borough council nominations at Mount Pocono, Bessie C. Ingersoll drew first with Henry E. Cruse, second; William H. Johnson, third; and May F. McGinley, fourth.

The five Democratic candidates for county commissioner drew positions as follows: (1) George E. Shick, (2) Russell D. Smith, (3) Willard L. Quick, (4) Forrest H. Haney, and (5) Granville Shiffer.

Mahlon S. Besecker drew the first position for auditor on the Democratic ballot, while Monroe P. Brong was placed in the second position.

In the Democrats' contest for the county sheriff nomination, Grover C. Mervine drew first position, leaving the second spot to Jacob F. Altemose. (Victor H. Henning, Republican candidate for sheriff, has no primary opposition.)

There were also six Democratic drawings for position in councilmanic races. Christie D. Shull drew first position as a candidate for the Democratic nomination at Delaware Water Gap, leaving second position to Philip E. Farber Jr.

In the East Stroudsburg Second ward, A. Dewey Jacoby drew first position on the Democratic ballot, while Elwood E. LaBar, his opponent for the nomination, was given second position.

J. Fielding Vollers drew first position for the Democratic contest in the east borough's Fourth ward, while Andrew L. Mery took the second spot. In drawing for a fifth ward contest in East Stroudsburg, Elton P. Hall, incumbent councilman, was given first position and Thomas F. Sexton second.

In the one councilmanic contest among the Democrats in Stroudsburg, Daniel G. Warner drew first place on the ballot in the Fourth ward, leaving second position to Edward S. Gould, incumbent who is president of the borough council.

Democrats drawing for position in the contest for council nominations at Mount Pocono were placed on the ballot with Arthur W. Serfass, first; George VanCamerick, second; John A. Sutton, third, and Martin J. Brennan, fourth.

Milk Price May Advance Cent July 1

The State Milk Control commission yesterday proposed a one-cent-a-quart boost in the price of milk in Monroe county and other parts of the Allentown (Lehigh) milk marketing area.

A similar increase was tentatively ordered for the Harrisburg, Lancaster, Reading and York areas, together with a one-half cent raise in Philadelphia. All increases would become effective July 1.

Commissioners Charles J. O'Laughlin and John J. Snyder submitted the tentative boosts at conferences with dealers and producers in Harrisburg. The milk control law requires the conferences before price changes may be posted officially.

The new price orders and testimony given at hearings yesterday will be forwarded to the Office of Price Stabilization and hence are still subject to change.

The present price of milk in Monroe county is 21 cents a quart. The price paid farmers for Class 1 milk is $5.50 a hundredweight. This would be revised upward to $5.85 along with the 22 cents a quart to be charged consumers.

The present area of Germany, split into four zones of occupation, is 143,200 square miles.

Pfc. Duane Simmons

Garden Club's State Award Announced At Laurel Tea

Crowning touch of the Monroe County Garden club's annual Tea held yesterday as the guests of LaBar's Rhododendron Nursery, was the announcement that the club had been awarded the white ribbon special award of merit at the annual State convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Garden clubs.

The citation which accompanied the White Ribbon award, hailed the contribution of the club to the Laurel Trail at Bowman's Hill Wild Flower preserve, and the work of the Wild Flower Study group in collecting specimens, and was awarded on a competitive bases.

Mrs. William Hawn, new president of the club, made the announcement during her report of the state convention held at Bryn Mawr College. Mrs. A. Starr Phelps, the club's second delegate, also gave other highlights of the convention, particularly those of horticultural interest.

The meeting was held on the lawn at LaBar's Nursery and opened with music arranged by Mrs. Robert Miller, which included celeste solos by Gene Schiller: "Minuet" by Boccherini; "Glockenspiel", Mozart; "Singing Fountain", Niemann; and a group of Italian songs.

She also played the celeste accompaniment for the solos of Anne George: "Moonbeams" by Victor Herbert; "Laughing Song," Strauss; "The House that Jack Built," Sidney Homer; "At Parting," Rogers; "The End of a Perfect Day," Carrie Jacobs Bond.

Russell Harmon was the chief speaker of the afternoon, speaking on the varieties of heath, which lend themselves well to modern plantings. Little known at present, they are rapidly gaining enthusiasts where they have been used. They include the box huckleberry, which botanists have termed the oldest living thing, he said. He showed the various types of heath native to this country, and concluded his talk by demonstrating the wrong and the right way of pruning shubbery.

The members and their guests were greeted at the tea by the past presidents of the club in a formal reception line. They included Mrs. Edward C. Knob, Mrs. Elmer Kiefer, Mrs. A. Starr Phelps, Mrs. Eli Travis, Mrs. Russell Hamblin, Mrs. Arthur L. Helmes and Mrs. Lynn K. Lewis, a charter member of the group.

Punch and cookies were served after the program by the committee headed by Mrs. Russell Harmon, which included Mrs. John Glasson, Mrs. Edward Kenney, Mrs. W. K. LaBar, Mrs. Ralph Moock, Miss Aimee Girard, Miss Lucie Girard, Mrs. Edwin Treible, Mrs. Russell Imbt, Mrs. George Robinson, Mrs. LeRoy Koehler, and Mrs. William Walton. Mrs. Elwood Grant provided the laurel for decorations.

Day Camp For Girl Scouts Set For August

The Girl Scout Day camp will be held this year in August rather than in July as it has been for the past three years, it was decided last night at the meeting of the Girl Scout Council of Monroe County held at the Girl Scout House on Sarah St.

The camp was set for a later date this year so that the campers could use the new shelter which will be erected there through the cooperative efforts of the community on the Girl Scout land on Mosier's Knob.

Mrs. Harold C. Edwards, county president, presided at the meeting, and Mrs. William Miller, camping chairman, reported on the progress of the building plans. Other routine reports were given by chairmen.

When you're preparing mashed or baked potatoes use potatoes of the mealy variety; when you want the potatoes for a summer salad, or perhaps a creamed potato dish, use the waxy kind.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Well, the Garden club's Laurel tea had everything but tea — and laurel. It's a little late for the laurel at the Nursery, but there were bouquets of it on the tables. And it was much too hot for tea, so there was the best punch in a laurel tone.

And the cakes—I realize you shouldn't be so materialistic, but the open air certainly sent me sprinting for the tea table as soon as the program was over—and then everybody discovered it was a mighty hard place to leave.

Anyway what with everybody so proud of their state award, and Russell Harmon doing a neat switch by describing how a shrub felt about a pruning, it was an elegant meeting, even without the music.

And you'd have thought that Gene Schiller and Anne George had a full symphony accompaniment, the way all the birds in the county sang to keep them company. There was one bird that even added a little aerial ballet number in time to the music.

Youths Show How They Work At WSCS Meeting

Actual demonstration of the youth work in the church was presented last night at the final meeting of the Womens' Society of Christian Service of the East Stroudsburg Methodist church. Mrs. Kenneth Stine, secretary of youth work, described the many activities, and Patricia Stiff read a report on the young people's work and study.

A transcribed play was presented by a group of young people in a modern version of the Prodigal Son.

Mrs. Evelyn McKibbin, secretary of children's work presented a group of juniors who sang "Living for Jesus," with John Eaton as accompanist. Mrs. Dale Learn was program chairman.

Mrs. Henry Evans led the devotions, and Mrs. Isabel Leedom presided at the business meeting. Plans were made to entertain the district meeting at their church in the fall and the summer sessions at Pocono Plateau were announced for July 7-14.

The auxiliary presented a set of dishes and a tablecloth to Miss Barbara Hartman who will soon be leaving for Africa as a missionary.

Mrs. Leedom gave the highlights of the WSCS conference in the Arch St. Methodist church, Philadelphia.

Strawberry shortcake was served by the members of Mrs. Stem's Circle 4.

Strawberry Queen Crowned At Festival

The Strawberry festival given by the Lydia Circle of the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian church drew about 100 visitors.

A musical program featured three violin selections by Raymond Marsh: "Madrigale" by Simonette. "Valse Bluette" by Dirgo; and "Loin du Bal" by Gillet. A quartet composed of Margaret Cramer, Mary Hosier, Bob Burrows and Ashton Burrows sang four songs: "Love Demand" by Penn; "Auf Wiednsechn," by Romberg; "By the Bend of the River," by Edwards.

Dr. W. R. Erickson showed colored slides of flower gardens of the south.

Climax of the program was the crowning of Mrs. Albert Buenzli as Strawberry Queen. Besides her crown of strawberries, she received a glass of strawberry jam and a nosegay of strawberries and blossoms.

Refreshments were served from a table, whose centerpiece was of fruit topped with strawberries. Prizes for ticket selling went to Paul Schlough, first; and Billy Watson, second.

Joan Doris Blake Bride Of Lloyd Ernest Brong

Saylorsburg—Miss Joan Doris Blake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon G. Blake, Saylorsburg, became the bride of Lloyd Ernest Brong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brong, of Saylorsburg RD, on Tuesday night, June 19, at 8 in the St. Peter's Evangelical United Brethren church.

Rev. Harold Ulmer, new minister at the church, performed the single-ring ceremony, the first in which he had officiated. Mrs. Frank M. Shick was organist and played the traditional wedding marches. Jean Van Buskirk, vocalist, sang "Because," and "I Love You Truly."

The church was decorated with mock oranges, fern, rhododendron and bouquets of garden flowers, and was lighted by candles.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white summer suit with white accessories, and carried a prayer book with a white orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brong, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom, were their attendants. Mrs. Brong wore a pink summer suit with white accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of blue carnations.

The bride's mother wore a blue-figured print dress with white accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother also wore a blue figured dress with black accessories, and a white rosebud corsage.

The bride is a member of St. Peter's church, where she has been active in church activities. Graduated in 1946 from Chestnuthill High school, she is now a telephone operator at the local exchange. Mr. Brong, who was graduated from Chestnuthill High school in 1940, is a member of the Brodheadsville Reformed church. A veteran of three years in the Army, during which he spent 18 months in the European theater, Mr. Brong is now employed at the Vassar Bag Co. He is a member of the Saylorsburg baseball team.

On their return from a wedding trip to Canada and Niagara Falls they will make their home in Saylorsburg.

Son Is Born

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Staples, of 41 Stofflet St., Stroudsburg at the General Hospital yesterday morning at 6:45. This is their second child. They have a daughter, Rose Mary, who is a year and a half old. Mrs. Staples is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Heller, also of Stofflet St.

Celery seeds, added to cooked buttered carrots, makes a nice flavor change.

Now They Know What Mountain Feudin' Means

Going to visit relatives at Camp Breckenridge, a trio of local women almost found themselves in a shooting war of their own in the Kentucky mountains, they reported on their return.

Miss Betty Johnson of Reeders, Miss Mary Heller, of East Stroudsburg and Mrs. Floyd Moyer, of McMichaels were on their way to visit Dale Johnson and Kenneth Moyer at Camp Breckenridge, and when they inquired directions in Cincinnati were directed to Breckenridge county, rather than the camp.

Stopping at a little town in the hills, they were surprised to learn that none of the residents had even heard of Camp Breckenridge. However on the map they could see a road leading to Louisville. What the map didn't show, however, was that the road went through some of the wildest hill country in Kentucky.

They drove through the wilderness, dotted with shacks where the children ran outside with no clothes on, but nowhere could they find a place to stay. About 2:30 in the morning they pulled up to what seemed to be a deserted shack to sleep in their car. They were hardly settled when shots rang out, and an old man came out and ordered them to leave.

They left, in a hurry, and didn't stop until they reached Louisville. On their return journey they went two hundred miles out of their way to avoid going back over the same route, which was a little too picturesque for them.

Dog Stays Close To Master Even When Least Expected

Henryville — Lucky, prized pet dog of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Scheffer, apparently got tired of seeing his master take off for New York City after a week-end in the country and did a sly trick of hitch-hiking the other day.

The Scheffers missed Lucky Sunday afternoon. Before Mr. Scheffer left for the city, he and Mrs. Scheffer toured the country-side seeking their dog.

The Scheffers gave up in dispair and Mr. Scheffer headed in to New York.

Scheffer got the shock of his life when he opened the car trunk. There was Lucky. The Scheffers figured he hopped into the trunk when Scheffer opened it to take out some tools.

Lucky got a ride back to Henryville Monday night to join Mrs. Scheffer for a full week in the country.

Robbins Gains Medalist Honors In Shawnee Tourney

Everett Case

Case, Engle, Walker Feature Clinic Lectures

Everett Case, soft-spoken head basketball coach at North Carolina State, made his first appearance at the eighth annual Eastern Pennsylvania Scholastic Coaches Association clinic and was well received by the more than 80 student coaches who were on hand for his lecture in the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College gymnasium yesterday afternoon.

Case stressed fundamentals most of the afternoon, and used the championship Allentown High school basketball team for demonstrative purposes. The Allentown club also scrimmaged for Case at the end of his lecture. Allentown won the PIAA state title last winter.

Basketball will hold the fort again this afternoon, when Case lectures from 1:15 to 4:45, at which time the seventh clinic of its type to be held at ESSTC will come to an end.

Football

Charley "Rip" Engle, Penn State's head football coach, lectured yesterday morning from 8:30 to 10:30, on the winged-T, assisted by Sever Torretti, of the Penn-State staff.

Douglas "Peahead" Walker, former head grid mentor at Wake Forest and present assistant at Yale, spoke on the "T" formation from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. yesterday. It was Walker's final appearance at this year's clinic.

Engle will lecture again today, beginning at 8:30 a.m. and ending at 12:30 p.m.

Jay Archer, founder of "Biddy Basketball" gave a demonstration of his game yesterday afternoon, with two "Biddy" teams on hand to handle the actual demonstrations.

The clinic also held a banquet at ESSTC last night, with Ben Carnevale, head cage mentor at the U. S. Naval Academy, being the featured speaker. Carnevale dealt mainly with the gambling elements in the game today.

Case also spoke at the banquet, which featured the next to the last day of the clinic.

Captures Tennis Crown

Syracuse, N. Y. (AP)—Pablo Eisenberg of Maplewood, N. J., won the Eastern Intercollegiate freshman tennis crown yesterday with a straight-set victory over a fellow Princeton student.

Eisenberg downed Mike Weatherly of Clayton, Mo., 6-3, 6-2, 6-4, on Syracuse University's courts.

Arnold, Peeney Low Among Local Entries

Shawnee-on-Delaware — Tom Robbins, 48-year-old golfer from Larchmont, N.Y., became the man to beat in the twenty-eighth annual Shawnee Invitation tournament, when he captured medalist honors with a scorching 71, one under par figures, here yesterday, as a field of 78 sought to qualify for the first of several major tournaments to be held at the local course this summer.

Robbins, who won the West Chester County (NY) Seniors crown for the third straight year last week, with a 69, had a par 37 on the front nine yesterday but came home with a 34, one under regulation figures.

An accurate putter carried the New Yorker to the medalist honors, as he carded five birds, two on the outgoing nine and three on the back nine.

Next in Line

James Raymond, also of Larchmont, was next in line with a par 73, while Ellis Taylor, Delaware State Amateur champion from Newark, Del., finished with a 74, due to faulty approaches.

Robbins is paired with Jack Dobbs, New York, in the first round match today, while Raymond faces Gerald Peet, veteran campaigner from Easton and Taylor stacks up against Olin Gerrochi, Oakland Hills, N. Y. The first round is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m.

Pete Arnold, Stroudsburg, and Walter Peeney, East Stroudsburg, were low among the local group of entries each with an 84 on identical scores of 43-41. Bill Nixon and Augie Lockwitch, both of Stroudsburg, accounted for 86s. Nixon had a 47-39 round, while Lockwitch put together a pair of 43s.

Larry Ross, East Stroudsburg, had a 48-48—96, while Joe Barnes, Stroudsburg, fashioned a 50-49 score.

Those remaining in the tournament will play 18 holes today and the survivors of the first round will see further action tomorrow and Sunday.

Ed Meister, Cleveland, O., is the defending champion in the tournament.

Flam Advances In Net Tourney

London (AP)— Herb Flam, America's second-ranking player, squeezed into the semi-finals of the London Lawn Tennis championships yesterday as three American women swept into the semifinals of the women's division.

The 21-year-old Beverly Hills, Calif., star outlasted stocky Torsten Johannsson of Sweden to win 6-3, 4-6, 12-10, and gained the right to meet top-ranking Frank Sedgman of Australia in the semi-finals today. Sedgman, who has been seeded first in the Wimbledon tournament, also was carried to an extra set before he could eliminate Vladimir Cernik of Egypt, 2-6, 7-5, 6-2.

Columbia Coach Resigns

New York (AP)—Gordon Ridings stepped down as head basketball coach at Columbia, and Lou Rossini, who guided the Lions through an undefeated season and to the Ivy League title last season, was named to succeed him yesterday.

Cleveland Decisions Red Sox

Boston, (AP)—Sam Chapman was the big offensive gun yesterday as he got the Cleveland Indians off to a four run first inning, sparking them to an 8-4 triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

A Fenway Park audience of 9,220 saw the erstwhile Philadelphia outfielder bang a three run two base hit and then steal home in the opening inning.

Another Run

Chapman also drove in another run later in the game. Those five runs would have been enough for Cleveland's victory, third in a four game series here.

Mike Garcia, swarthy southern Californian, was credited with his sixth victory although he needed help from ace Bob Lemon in the ninth.

With two Red Sox players on base and none out in the final inning Lemon replaced Garcia.

Ted Williams grounded out but the bases became loaded when Catcher Jim Hegan dropped Vern Stephens' pop fly.

Pros Meet Amateurs

Philadelphia (AP)—Two par-smashing professionals, Louise Suggs and Patty Berg, swept into the semi-finals of the Women's Western Open Golf Tournament yesterday and found surprising company—a pair of upsetting amateurs, Pat O'Sullivan and Marjorie Lindsay.

The play-for-gold girls, with six Western titles between them, will try to eradicate the amateur threat today—Miss Suggs against Miss O'Sullivan and Miss Berg against Miss Lindsay.

Chandler Sets Quitting Date

By Claude Wolff

Cincinnati (AP)—A. B. Chandler signed himself out yesterday as commissioner of baseball, resigning effective July 15.

He asserted he quit at his own terms.

He said he wanted to stay on the job until after the all-star game at Detroit on July 10 and the dedication of a baseball park at Reading, Pa., a few days later.

It was the final act of baseball drama which began late last year when the major league club owners, in a stunning action, refused to renew Chandler's contract for another seven years.

That contract ends next April 30. But baseball, not wanting a "lame duck" commissioner, decided to take up the contract, which calls for $65,000 a year salary.

In New York, a few days ago, they agreed to Chandler's terms—legal protection from any suit against baseball and a date of resignation to be set by him.

Chandler, in turn, agreed to defend baseball in the several suits against it, all of them challenging the constitutionally of the reserve clause written in every player's contract.

That clause binds a player to the club which signs him, and is the lifeline of the game.

PAH, Penn-Stroud Hotel Score Victories In Little League Games At Local Playgrounds

Peters-Arnold-Howell took the measure of the Methodists in the East Stroudsburg Little League last night, 9-8, while the Penn-Stroud Hotel won over People's Coal Co., 17-5, in the Stroudsburg Little League. The games were played at the playgrounds of the respective boroughs.

The East Stroudsburg Little League encounter found both clubs getting off to a flying start, with the Methodists holding a 7-6 edge at the end of the second stanza and the count all tied at the end of the third. However, PAH tallied twice in the fifth, while the Methodists carded only one in the bottom of the sixth and final inning. Pope and Carter hit homers, the latter's a grand slam affair.

Big Edge

Penn-Stroud Hotel held the upper hand throughout the Stroudsburg Little League contest, picking up a 7-0 lead at the end of the second frame and putting the contest on ice with a seven-run outburst in the final stanza.

Tonight's schedule in the East Stroudsburg Little League calls for the R. C. Cramer Lumber Co. and National Bank to clash at 6:30, at the East Stroudsburg playground. The National Bank and People's Coal meet in the Stroudsburg loop tonight, also at 6:30, at the Stroudsburg playground. This is a make-up game.

Detroit Takes Measure Of Athletics, 9-3

Philadelphia (AP)—Bob Cain held the Philadelphia Athletics to seven hits, one a home run by hurler Carl Scheib, to give Detroit a 9 to 3 victory yesterday.

It was Cain's sixth victory in ten decisions.

Scheib hit his homer in the third with the bases empty.

This was the only run Cain allowed until weakening in the ninth. Then he struck Dave Philley with a pitched ball, whereupon Gus Zernial doubled and Ferris Fain clubbed a two-run single.

No Worries

But Cain never had any serious worries after the fourth inning. Singles by Gerry Priddy, George Kell and Dick Kryhoski, coupled with a base-filling walk, got him off to a 2-0 start, and two more crossed in the fourth on a pair of walks and a single by Priddy which was complicated by an error by Philley.

Triples by Pat Mullin and Vic Wertz set up single runs in the fifth and seventh. Scheib departed, charged with his seventh defeat in eight verdicts, after walking Kell with the bases loaded and one out in the eighth. Wertz greeted reliever Morris Martin with a two-run single.

Eagles, IAM Bow In Softball Tilts

Worthington Mower and Patterson-Kelley scored victories in the Monroe County Softball league last night, with the former taking the measure of the Eagles, 7-6, at the East Stroudsburg playground, while Patterson-Kelley won over IAM, 8-7, at the East Stroudsburg Junior High school field.

Close Games

The Worthington Mower contingent pushed across the winning run in the seventh inning, while Patterson-Kelley was forced to score three times in the ninth to win its game, after IAM had tallied twice in the final frame to break a 5-5 tie that had existed since the seventh and usually final inning.

There are no games scheduled in the league tonight.

Wins Golf Title

Bedford (AP)—Maurine Riley of New Castle captured the Western Pennsylvania Women's Open Golf championship yesterday as she fired a net 132 in the A-one flight of the annual event.

Roseto Gains Verdict Over Portland, 3-1

Roseto — Roseto A.A. stretched its first place lead in the Blue Mountain League to one full game over Pocono A.C. last night, when the charges of Manager Hal Nerino took the Portland Apollos into camp, 3-1, here at Roseto Park.

Tom Foley, former Pocono Mountain League star, worked the distance for the Roseto team, giving up only five hits, while striking out ten and walking one. The right hander has won both starts since joining the Roseto roster a short time ago.

Homer

Foley was deprived of a shutout when Randall Ott, rival hurler, blasted a home run in the second inning, to give the Apollos a lead that lasted only a couple of minutes.

The league leading Roseto contingent tallied twice in the second frame and pushed across an insurance marker in the bottom of the sixth.

Randall Ott and Barry Transue counted for four of the five Portland hits, as they each came up with a pair of safeties, Ott slamming a double in addition to his home run.

Dick Pritchard, with a pair of singles, was the big gun in Roseto's eight-hit attack.

Johnson Hurls Washington To Favorable Nod Over Browns

Washington, (AP)—The Senators' Don Johnson held his former teammates, the St. Louis Browns, to six hits and beat them, 9-2, last night as Washington supported him with a 13-hit attack against Jim Suchecki, Bill Kennedy and Bob Mahoney. Irv Noren and Mickey Vernon each slammed two-run homers for the Senators.

Johnson posted his third straight win and his second over the Browns as Washington chased Suchecki early. Noren blasted a first inning homer after Gil Coan singled, but the Browns picked up a run in the second inning on a walk to Hank Arft and singles by Fred Marsh and Bob Young.

Hitting

Clyde Kluttz's single and Gene Verble's triple fetched Washington a 3-1 lead in the second inning and it mounted to 5-1 in the third when Cass Michaels singled and Vernon smashed a homer.

Walks to Noren and Mike McCormick, plus singles by Eddie Yost and Kluttz, boosted Washington's margin to 7-1 in the fifth and the Senators added two runs in the seventh on Noren's double, McCormick's single and Yost's double.

The Browns picked up their final run in the ninth on Arft's triple and Ken Wood's outfield fly.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Johnsonville's victory over Portland had the Blue Mountain League talking yesterday, as the win was the first of the season for the former club. The victory made the circuit more evenly matched than at anytime during the present campaign and certainly didn't hurt the situation as far as fan appeal is concerned. If this same Johnsonville contingent can come through on several more occasions during the present campaign, the Blue Mountain League will again draw crowds as it did last year and the season before.

John Polisky, Johnsonville's only winning pitcher of the campaign, graduated this month from East Stroudsburg High school, while Barry Transue, charged with the Portland mound loss, is an East Stroudsburg High graduate and is now attending East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. Tom Foley, pitcher for Roseto last night, is the same Foley that started the present campaign with Analomink, of the Pocono Mountain League. Tom, who enters Penn State this fall, was a member of the ESSTC soccer team last season.

Harry Warner, former first sacker with the Stroudsburg Poconos and an off-season resident of Reeders, continues to hit the ball well for Evansville, Ind., of the class "B" Three I League. Warner recently became the second player of the present season to hit a home run over Evansville's right field wall, a distance of some 380 feet. Warner also had two other hits in that game against Davenport which Evansville won by a 12-4 count. Ron Mrozinski, former Carbondale chucker, is still a member of the Terre Haute, of the same league, pitching staff, but lost his last outing to Waterloo, 5-1. Carbondale was a member of the North Atlantic League before the circuit folded.

Stan Pawolski is dividing his time between third and second base for Cedar Rapids, of the Three I League, at the present time. Pawloski spent part of the 1949 campaign with the Stroudsburg Poconos. Al Gardella, former Bangor and Peekskill, North Atlantic League, manager, is currently holding down first base with the Wilmington Blue Socks, of the class "B" Inter-State League. However, rumors making the rounds indicate that Gardella may retire from baseball to enter the waste-paper business. Gardella recently resigned as manager of the Three Rivers, Que. entry in the class "C" Provincial League.

Donald "Super" Phillips, who pitched a no-hit game in the Stroudsburg Little League on Wednesday night, and lost, has accounted for 60 strikeouts since the present campaign got underway. Phillips' pitching has made the Stroudsburg Security Trust team a serious threat for the title in the first season of official Little League baseball in Stroudsburg. It has also been learned that a mask and breast protector has been given to the umpires working the Little League contests at Stroudsburg Playground.

The mask was donated by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, while the breast protector was presented by Red Top Tavern.. An official Little League march has been written and the first recordings of "Little League" are being released on MGM records. Leroy Holmes and his orchestra, with the Holmes vocal quartet, are cutting the platter which is backed by the always popular "Take Me Out to the Ball Game." Russ Bates, who was a member of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College swimming team last winter, is a former basketball star from Carbondale's Benjamin Franklin High school.

Don Hazleton, who looked like a bright first base prospect in the Boston Braves' farm system before breaking a leg last year, is currently having his troubles both from a playing angle and popularity angle in the Wayne County League. Hazleton, who played in class "C" circles last year, was highly respected for his speed, but the leg injury took much of his swiftness away from him. Don is currently holding down the initial sack, for Honesdale.

Dodgers Nip Reds For Roe's Tenth

Cincinnati (AP) — Unbeaten Preacher Roe required the assistance of Carl Erskine in the ninth inning yesterday but was credited with his tenth consecutive victory as the Brooklyn Dodgers took the rubber game of their three-game series with the Cincinnati Reds, 6-4.

The Dodger victory, together with St. Louis' victory over New York ,increased Brooklyn's first-place lead over the runnerup Giants to six and one-half games.

Intense Heat

Working under the intense heat and humidity, Roe, the veteran southpaw, yielded 11 hits, one more than his mates collected off five Cincinnati hurlers. He left under fire in the ninth after throwing a home run ball to pinch hitter Roy McMillan and giving up a single to Bobby Adams.

Cards Blank Giants Behind Staley, 2-0

St. Louis (AP) — Gerry Staley throttled the New York Giants with five hits yesterday as he pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to within one and one-half games of second place with a 2-0 victory. It was the righthander's ninth triumph of the season.

Rally

Staley also started the winning rally with a double off loser Sheldon Jones in the third inning. With two out and nobody on base, Staley hit down the left field line for a two-bagger. Solly Hemus singled over second scoring Staley, and reached second when Willie Mays fumbled the ball in centerfield. "Red" Schoendienst crashed a double off the wall in right center, Hemus crossing the plate with the final run.

Jones, making his third start of the year and first since May 28, gave up five hits in seven innings.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FOR FRIDAY, JUNE 22, 1951

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Invigorating Mars rays now favor work and worthy activity requiring sturdy action, endurance, bravery. Be thoughtful, kindly at home, with family and dealing with children.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Your Venus here advises close attention to, and patience with, personal interests and matters where finesse is important. Day first favors hard work, urgent, useful activity. Have faith.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Not all helpful for mental work, planning but is a responsive period for carrying out schedule previously arranged. Familiar tasks can advance, gain. Just be wisely careful.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Fine Moon and Mars rays encourage personal attainment even in difficult tasks and where justifiable aggression is needed. Intuition, inventiveness high—make good use of these gifts.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Help by cooperation, friendly attitude with essentials, duties and where community or government needs your aid. Give your fine efforts to church, charity matters.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—May not make full advancement you desire in activities requiring mental agility, but worthy effort sincerely done will bring forth good results. Work steadily, don't overdo and don't worry.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Journeys by water, marine interests, military affairs, healthful outdoor activities and sports, things requiring strength, courage are top favorites. Matters of lighter vein less honored.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Not all satisfactory perhaps for some interests but on whole good work will be productive at least of some benefits, even gains unexpectedly. Pray when disturbed, in doubt.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Money transactions, decisions in real estate or other valued items urge wise forethought, accuracy. Some advancement, gains possible if endeavor is purposeful, with honest intent.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Should be sort of day you like, your innate industrious nature can prove its great worth. Difficult tasks, laborious work requiring intelligence and stamina highly favored.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Some obstacles for new matters, especially if of unusual nature, or carry risk of any sort. But progress can be made—at your occupation, in familiar issues, in other things, too.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Grand Neptune aspect today gives you the edge on many of us with favorable vibrations for new as well as familiar matters. Day should produce many advantages. Have incentive.

YOU BORN TODAY are a Gemini-Cancer cuspal with characteristics from both Signs. A very interesting individual and versatile. But watch carefully to develop your finer talents and traits and curtail inclinings, the restless-ness, changeableness. Settle as early as you can at your life's work and contentment will grow with earned success. You might well carry a hobby along with your occupation—perhaps make it profitable. Prayer, good reading and music are stabilizers as well as pleasant diversions. Birthdate: H. Rider Haggard, English novelist; Guiseppe Mazzini, Italian patriot.

Veeck Purchases Browns On Condition That He Obtains Bulk Of Stock By Early July

St. Louis (AP)— Bill Veeck, the fuzzy-haired, open-shirted dynamo of baseball, bought the St. Louis Browns yesterday on the condition he pick up the bulk of stock which he hopes to get by July 4.

The Browns will stay here.

Veeck, former owner of the Cleveland Indians, took what he called "more than an option" on the controlling interest of the American League club held by the DeWitt brothers.

Baseball's idea man—he had fireworks, blaring bands, clowns, tightrope walkers and what have you at Cleveland—refused to say exactly how much stock he wanted besides that of the DeWitts.

With the deal yesterday he has his hands on nearly 60 per cent of it. Veeck, "just call me Bill," explained the deal with the DeWitts this way:

No Trouble

If he gets enough of the outstanding stock from other holders he has to buy that of the DeWitts. He figured he would have no trouble getting what he needed. About 1,400 stockholders in all are involved.

Bill Veeck

Veeck said he set July 4 as a tentative date because some date was needed to spur stockholders to sell.

Mark C. Steinberg, St. Louis investment broker who recently bought a $700,000 second mortgage note on the Browns, said Veeck's deal yesterday gave him 57 or 58 per cent. Steinberg figured Veeck needs between 80 and 84 per cent of the stock "to make the kind of deal he wants." Veeck wouldn't confirm that.

Th deal yesterday included 2,000 shares held by Steinberg. The DeWitts hold about 160,000 of the 300,000 shares. The price agreed upon is $7 a share, just about the present market price.

The affable Veeck, who flew in early yesterday from Chicago, showed up in a blue suit and a white sports shirt opened at the collar for the signing of the agreement with the DeWitts and Donald L. Barnes, former St. Louis Browns owner who negotiated the sale.

Veeck was all smiles. At a press conference he held later, he gave the newsmen the once-over and remarked:

"We've got a better house than the Browns ever had."

Chisox Win Series Final From Yankees

New York (AP)—Sol Rogovin, a recent White Sox acquisition from Detroit, hung a gaudy four-hit, 5-2 defeat around the necks of the New York Yankees yesterday to send the Chicago Hot Shots bounding on to Boston with their three and one-half length lead over the American League looking very solid indeed.

The upstarts from the midway came to town three days ago facing the fight of their lives to prove to the skeptical east that they belonged to the purple. The 122,566 fans who poured into the Stadium for the big series went away thoroughly convinced.

Rogovin's brilliant victory, which gave the "Richards Raiders" an even break in the four-game set, would have been a shutout but for two towering blasts by Johnny Mize which landed, respectively, in the Yankee bullpen and far up in the right field stands.

Exchange

Only three other Yankees reached base off the young righthander, who came to the Sox in exchange for southpaw Bob Cain last month. Mickey Mantle and Gene Woodling each rapped singles and Yogi Berra worked Rogovin for his only free pass. That was the crop.

While Rogovin was running his record to 3-1 since coming under the magic influence of Paul Richards, three Yankee flingers, starting with Frank Shea, were being bounced for 13 solid smacks by the league leaders.

Nellie Fox, sensational young second baseman, led the barrage with a game-opening triple and two singles in four official trips, and Ed Robinson, big first-baseman, weighed in with his thirteenth home run of the season and a single. The Sox had men on the sacks in every round and might have run up a lofty margin but for four timely double plays perpetrated by the Yankee infield.

Pittsburgh (AP) — Willard "Swede" Nordberg, 24-year-old Springfield (Mass.) College pitcher, yesterday signed a contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Phillies Take Third Straight Game From Pittsburgh, 10-5

Pittsburgh, (AP)—Philadelphia rapped three Pittsburgh pitchers for 11 hits, including three home runs, yesterday to wallop the Pirates 10-5 and sweep a three game series.

Tom Brown's grand slam home run in the first inning, his first of the season, sparked the Phils 11-hit attack. Bill Nicholson and Willie Jones also socked round trippers for the Phils. It was Nicholson's second homer and Jones' fourteenth.

Robin Roberts gave up 12 hits in coasting to his eighth win against five losses.

Showdown Nears In Dispute Over Iran Oil Rights

Tehran, Iran, (AP) — Nationalist youths battered down Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. signs here yesterday and Parliament gave Premier Mohammed Mossadegh a unanimous vote of confidence to strengthen his hand in taking over the company's operations.

The showdown probably will come in the next few days at Abadan, the refinery center. There the British expect Iranian Oil Co. officials will ask British technicians to sign agreements acknowledging they are employees of the Iranian government at the same terms they have had under AIOC contracts.

The confidence vote in the Majlis, the lower house of Parliament, was 91 to 0. The outcome promptly killed talk in western quarters that many legislators had cooled off on Mossadegh's "no compromise" stand toward the billion-dollar, British-owned company which has run the Iranian oil industry for 50 years.

The vote in the upper house was 41 to 0. There was one absention in the Majlis; three in the upper house.

With none of the weeping and fainting that customarily marks his public utterances, Mossadegh declared quietly he will "proceed to take over the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. because the country demands it." He implied his Nationalist followers might turn to violence if he lost the vote. There was no debate.

A throng of several thousand Nationalist demonstrations hailed the confidence vote in Parliament square.

(Britain's Parliament, too, met on the oil issue. Deputy Conservative Leader Anthony Eden told the House of Commons a British withdrawal from Iran's oil fields would have a disastrous effect on the rearmament program of western Europe, which gets much of its oil from AIOC pipelines. Capt. Raymond Jones Gunter, a Laborite, declared Iran "is a far greater menace" than Korea to world peace. The British government, which owns 53 per cent of the AIOC stock, telegraphed the International Court of Justice at the Hague a request that Iran be enjoined from taking any steps which might deepen the dispute.)

Street crowds of several hundred cheered as a group of youths in a truck decorated with Iranian flags raided the company's Tehran offices and gasoline service stations yesterday morning, hammering down AIOC signs and replacing them with placards bearing the name of the Iranian National Oil Co., a government agency. Tehran police gave them no opposition.

Eighth Army Patrols Roll Into Kaesong

Tokyo, Friday (AP)—Eighth Army tank-infantry patrols rolled twice into Kaesong, northwestern gateway to Seoul, yesterday as Allied forces girded for a possible limited offensive by Communist troops next Monday on the first anniversary of the Korean war.

The patrols stabbed into the battered highway junction in a driving rain before dawn and again in late afternoon without opposition.

Enemy rifle fire, however, spattered the tanks south of the city on their way back to Allied lines. Infantrymen reported about 1,000 Communists were dug into the hills to the northwest.

Kaesong is four miles south of the 38th parallel and 35 miles northwest of Seoul on the main highway leading to Pyongyang. The last remaining Communist forces south of the old political boundry are in that sector.

Truman Asks Civil Defense Appropriation

Washington, (AP)—President Truman warned yesterday that American cities lie open to "devastating" atomic attacks and asked Congress to raise $535,000,000 for civil defense.

He recommended immediate action on an appropriation bill. "The lives of many millions," Mr. Truman said, "may depend on the development of a strong civil defense program."

The President made a separate request for $870,000 to be used for civil defense in the District of Columbia, where key departments of the government are clustered.

"For the first time in our history, this country faces the threat of a sudden, devastating attack at any time on our major cities," he wrote in a letter to House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex). The letter accompanied his appropriation request.

"We must act on the assumption that the Soviet Union has atomic bombs and that they have the planes that can drop these bombs on our cities.

"Every city, factory, office and home must be organized for civil defense. As long as there is a chance of any kind that atomic bombs may fall on our cities, we can not gamble. We cannot be caught unprepared."

Plane Spotters Plan Exercise

Pennsylvania's 600 aircraft spotter posts will be manned this weekend for a special night exercise in civil defense.

Volunteer spotters throughout the State will take part in the vast practice session to be held throughout the nation.

They'll be on watch for U. S. Air Force planes simulating an attack by an unidentified enemy air force trying to elude detection by radar.

The nationwide exercises will get under way at 9 a.m. Saturday and continue through late Sunday.

Air Force planes will try to get through in the Great Lakes and Pacific coast areas as well as Pennsylvania.

Doughton Thinks $7 Billion Tax Hike Is Maximum

Washington (AP)—A Democratic leader in the House predicted yesterday that the pending $7,200,000 tax increase would be the last big one, but this failed to mollify Republicans. They assailed the bill as "disastrous" and "socialistic."

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the Ways and Means committee opened debate on the record-shattering measure, which is set for a House vote late today.

The bill is urgently needed to finance national defense, Doughton said, but he made plain he believes it is about all the economy can stand, despite President Truman's request for a total increase of $10,000,000,000 or more.

"I consider it unlikely," Doughton said, "that we shall be able to increase substantially the yield of the Federal tax system beyond what is included in the present bill."

Lower Bail Denied

New York (AP)—Federal Judge Samuel H. Kaufman yesterday turned down motions of newly arrested Communist party leaders for lower bail.

HST Refused New Controls He Requested

Washington (AP)—Banking committees of both houses of Congress yesterday approved short-term wage, price and rent control bills denying President Truman just about all the broad new powers he says he needs to check inflation.

The Senate group ignored strong administration pleas and wrote into its bill a ban on any future rollbacks that would bring prices below the average of last Jan. 25-Feb. 24.

A few hours later, the House committee completed action on its bill—including a large number of amendments restricting Mr. Truman's control powers rather than broadening them as the President had asked.

Price Stabilizer Michael DiSalle said the Senate rollback restriction "would disrupt and endanger the entire stabilization program" if it became law.

In a brief filed with both banking committees, DiSalle said the provision would cost consumers $2,500,000,000 in price rollbacks presently planned.

The House committee cleared its bill by a vote of 21 to 5 after considering 73 amendments during the day.

One amendment added to the bill would permit war veterans to buy houses under G. I. legislation with down payments of six per cent or less provided the total cost didn't run over $12,000.

Another would require the administration to consult with the House and Senate Armed Services committees before acquiring certain kinds of real estate.

Chairman Spence (D-Ky) of the House group said he would try to get floor consideration of the measure starting next Wednesday.

Neither the House nor the Senate bill came close to giving the President all the authority he appealed for in his radio-television speech last week. The House bill would extend his control powers for one year, the Senate bill for only eight months. Mr. Truman asked a two-year extension.

The final vote in favor of the Senate committee's bill was 12 to 1. Senator Dirksen (R-Ill) cast the only dissenting vote.

Chairman Maybank (D-SC) said he would present the bill to the full Senate today. Debate is scheduled to start Monday, and a heated fight is in prospect. Senator Moody (D-Mich) announced he and others would wage an all-out effort to kill the restriction on rollbacks.

Three Die In Crash Of B-29

Cibolo, Tex., (AP)—A B-29 Superfortress from Randolph field crashed and burned five miles northeast of here yesterday and at least three men were killed.

Three others were seen parachuting from the plane before it crashed on a farm.

Wreckage of the plane was scattered over a 200-yard area.

The public relations officer at Randolph field, San Antonio, said the plane was from there and that three bodies had been found in the wreckage.

A total of eight were believed to have been on the plane.

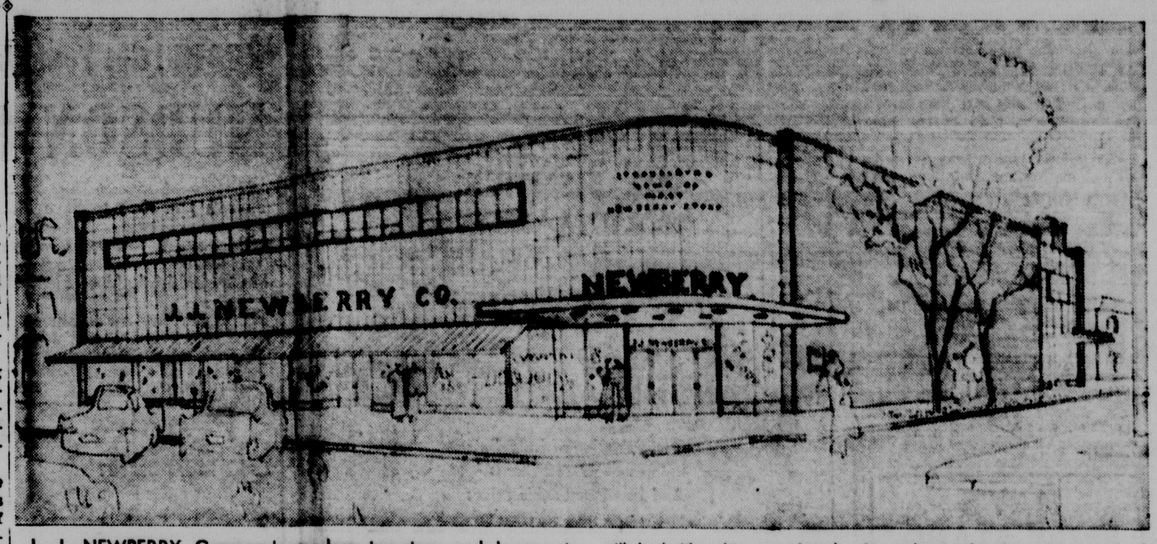

Witnesses said the plane circled to go in for a landing at Randolph Air Force base near here, then went back up when an engine caught fire, apparently to permit those aboard to parachute from it.

The plane's left outboard engine was ablaze when it crashed. About three-fourths around the circle for a landing the craft dipped a wing and exploded, witnesses said.

J. J. NEWBERRY Company's modern two-story and basement merchandising center extending from Stroudsburg's N. Sixth and Main St., 99 feet west on Main St. and 121 feet N. on Sixth St., will look like this completed. It replaces the first store started here in 1911 by Mr. Newberry. Demolition has already started on structure now on the site.

Modern New Building To Be Erected

Demolition work on buildings located on the J. J. Newberry property extending from Sixth St. west to the E. A. Bell building on the north side of Main St. started yesterday to make way for a modern, attractive appointed two-story and basement store building which will replace J. J. Newberry's first store, started here in 1911.

Contract for the new building has been awarded to the Esch Construction Co., Cleveland, O. Demolition work of the existing buildings has been sub-contracted and is scheduled to be completed in about 40 working days.

Mr. Newberry, now chairman of the board of J. J. Newberry Co., started his store here in 1911. Present store is located at 622 Main St. In 1913 and subsequent years similar stores were opened in other communities. The enterprise was conducted by Mr. Newberry individually or in partnership with his brother C. T. Newberry until organization of the corporation on Feb. 15, 1923.

The corporation and its subsidiaries operate 479 retail stores in 45 states with approximately 16,000 to 35,000 items carried, depending on the size of the store.

Mr. Newberry has been interested for many reasons in erecting a large modern store here, not the least of which were sound business reasons and sentiment based on the fact the great merchandising enterprise had its beginnings here.

The new building will have a frontage on Main St. of 99 feet with a depth of 121 feet on N. Sixth St. It will be of fireproof construction throughout.

Exterior will be of contemporary designs, with the Main St. portion of the building faced with glazed terra cotta. The N. Sixth St. facade will present a solid face brick wall rising 34 feet above the sidewalk. Aluminum windows on Main St. will provide light and air to stock room on second floor level.

A stainless steel marquee, gracefully curved about the Sixth St. corner of the building will be the dominating ornamental feature on the exterior.

The store front will be built of polished granite bulkhead with aluminum glazing members and polished plate glass. An expansive modern corner entrance at Sixth and Main with visual doors will be provided, supplemented by two additional Main St. entrances, and one on N. Sixth St.

Show windows will be lighted by concealed fluorescent lighting and incandescent spotlighting to show merchandise under natural conditions.

Upon entering the store one will find a beautiful spacious interior decorated in pastel colors. There will be modern aluminum sales stairs conveniently placed for shoppers desiring to enter the downstairs sales area.

On the first floor there will be a restaurant with a 60-foot long lunch counter containing the latest sanitary stainless steel equipment having seating facilities for 30 persons. A complete sanitary kitchen will be provided adjacent to lunch counter and will contain latest equipment for serving home cooked meals and pastries.

There will be a mezzanine office at the rear of the first floor salesroom to handle store and personnel matters.

In the downstairs salesroom there will be a large public lounge and toilet facilities. Completely modern store fixtures with chrome displays will be used throughout. There will be a total of 2,900 lineal feet of counter.

The first floor will be finished with a polished marble terrazzo floor and the downstairs will be furnished in modern asphalt tiles. Floor colors have been selected to harmonize with the store fixtures.

First floor will have a ceiling height of 15 feet and the downstairs salesroom will have nine and a half foot ceiling.

Both sales areas will be equipped with separate year-round air conditioning systems, providing filtered refrigerated air in the summer months and tempered filtered air in the heating season. These systems have been designed to give shoppers and store personnel the utmost comfort.

A feature of the sales floors will be the continuous fluorescent lighting which has been designed to give shadowless illumination over the entire store.

The second floor will be devoted to stock space and rest room facilities for store personnel. A spacious ladies lounge will be completely air conditioned and equipped with

Five Naval Fliers Killed

Seattle (AP)—Five of 10 Navy airmen aboard a patrol bomber were killed yesterday when the big, four-engine plane crashed in shallow water of a tide-created mud flat on Puget sound.

Four of the five survivors escaped with minor cuts and bruises. The fifth was seriously injured.

Their names were not immediately available.

The PB4Y2, based at Seattle's Sand Point Naval Air station, plunged into the shoals of Skagit bay on a routine training flight.

The crash scene was approximately 50 miles north of Seattle in the bay.

Wreckage was spread over a wide area, but the bomber's wings remained intact and the five survivors crawled atop them to await rescue by helicopter.

Miner Kills 3 Persons, Then Himself

Uniontown (AP) — Four persons died in blazing bursts of gunfire yesterday as a coal miner ran amuck in a mining community, killing two women and a man before taking his own life.

Det. William J. Long, of Fayette county in southwestern Pennsylvania said the slayer was William Johnson, 51-year-old Negro. Long identified Johnson's victims as Mrs. Frank Shiner, 30; her widowed sister, Mrs. Susie Gaszdo, 34, and Assistant Fire Chief Michael Trocheck, 45. All three were white.

Long said Johnson, the two women and their families all lived in the same house in the small town of Republic, about 12 miles west of Uniontown. The detective could give no reason for the shootings. He reported Johnson suddenly killed the women with a shotgun, ran across the road, threatened a Negro woman, then returned to the house.

He locked himself in and set the structure afire. Volunteer firemen rescued two small children — the only youngsters in the house at the time of the slayings — and brought the fire under control.

Assistant Fire Chief Trocheck then put a ladder against the outside wall just before Johnson's window. Trocheck climbed the ladder and just as his head appeared above the window ledge, a pistol shot rang out. Trocheck fell to the ground, shot in the forehead.

A squad of policemen then poured a barrage of tear gas shells through the windows. The detective said Johnson took his own life with the pistol.

J. J. Newberry Started Chain In Stroudsburg, Serving As Lone Buyer, Stockman, Clerk

J. J. Newberry's first store in Stroudsburg, started by him in 1911, had a staff of one—J. J. Newberry. He did all the work, buying, stocking, selling and everything else that goes into operating a store.

In 1919 he entered into partnership with his brother and their combined merchandising skill has created a great enterprise comprising 479 stores in 45 states.

Now chairman of the board, Mr. Newberry is still personally active in his business, either working at his desk daily, directing in great detail operations of the stores, or out visiting personally the many units which give daily public service in merchandising.

Born of sturdy, resourceful English and Dutch parents in middle-eastern Pennsylvania, he soon drew from them the sense of self reliance, which in his case drove him to the ambitious plan of creating a great sale organization.

Now numbered among the many leading Americans who went from humble beginnings to noteworthy success, Mr. Newberry was a young boy when he entered the business world running errands for a store. Later he became a clerk and then joined the S. H. Kress Co., one of the first 5-10 and 25-cent retail businesses.

Similarly, C. T. Newberry, his brother, started his career with F. W. Woolworth, elevating himself to buyer and executiveship in the New York Woolworth office as superintendent of buyers.

J. J. Newberry developed a sound knowledge of many phases of merchandising, and soon received a buyer's position.

Using his own savings, he started the Stroudsburg store and served as manager, buyer, floor walker, stockman and general complete staff of one in his first 5 and 10-cent store. Soon he was employing clerks and in a year and a half he opened his second store, employing J. L. Boughner, who later became a vice president, now deceased, as manager. The chain had started and is now nationwide.

Big Four Talks In Paris Break Up In Failure

Paris (AP)—The deputy foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and Russia last night broke off their efforts to write a program for a Big Four conference to ease world tension.

The deputies' talks, which began March 5, came to a dramatic end last night after a vituperative two-hour and 40-minute speech by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. The three western deputies had told their Russian colleague that, after 16 weeks and 74 meetings in the ornate pink palace here, they had enough.

But they left the door open for their governments to make one last attempt to arrange a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers, which has been suggested for July 23 in Washington.

State Closes Cernobyl Case

Allentown (AP) — The Commonwealth yesterday closed its case against Jack L. Cernobyl, 17, charged with murder in the fatal beating of Army Sgt. Raymond S. Noll, with the reading of Cernobyl's signed confession aloud to the jury.

District Attorney Kenneth H. Koch read the statement in which the accused youth charged Noll drove him and Stanley Marvin Jr., 20, a co-defendant, to the airport just outside the city for homosexual purposes last March 24.

The confession also stated that Cernobyl and Marvin later beat the soldier unconscious, robbed him and left him in the rear of Noll's convertible in an isolated section of the city.

Report Warned Against Russia Entering War

Washington, (AP) — Senator Bridges (R-NH) said last night a group of top military intelligence specialists apparently warned in April, 1945, that bringing Russia into the war against Japan would destroy China and end in tragedy for Korea.

Bridges submitted a purported copy of the group's report at a late session of the Senate inquiry into the firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as Far East commander.

"It came from a person who stated that Secretary of State Acheson had misinformed the committee when he stated that the Army was most anxious to get the Russians into the war against Japan," Bridges said. "This individual stated the exact opposite was true."

Acheson had testified earlier at the Senate inquiry that the United States wanted Russia to enter the war against Japan because it was feared that it might cost 1,000,000 American casualties to invade the Japanese home islands.

It was in return for Russia's agreement to enter the Far Pacific conflict that secret concessions in the Orient were made to Soviet Premier Stalin at the Yalta conference in February, 1945.

Earlier in yesterday's session, Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley testified that President Roosevelt assigned him in 1945 to try to soften the terms of the Yalta pact.

But after Roosevelt died, Hurley said, the State department blocked his efforts.

Russia, Chinese Increase Trade

Moscow, (AP)—Communist China and Soviet Russia have agreed to increase significantly this year the various materials they send each other under a 1950 trade pact, the government announced yesterday.

Western moves to cut off strategic supplies to China may have been a considerable factor in negotiation of the new agreement, signed here last Saturday in an atmosphere Moscow newspapers described as one of "friendly, mutual understanding."

Unquestionably, the apparent determination of the western nations to halt the flow of many items to China was one of the matters taken up during the talks.

Eccles Quits Federal Post

Washington, (AP)—Marriner S. Eccles resigned as a governor of the Federal Reserve system yesterday. He had been at odds with the Truman administration's economic policies for a long time.

A wealthy Utah financier, Eccles was one of the last top New Deal figures remaining in government. He first came to Washington 17 years ago, and he was chairman of the Federal Reserve board until President Truman demoted him in 1948.

Eccles' letter of resignation—effective July 14—and the President's letter accepting it were couched in formal terms that appeared to reflect coolness between them.

Eccles said "the time has arrived when I can and should return to my (Salt Lake City) home and private business affairs in the West." Mr. Truman skipped the usual expression of thanks to a retiring official but wished Eccles "happiness and continued success."

Mysterious Woman Sobs During Trial

Tunkhannock (AP) — Loud sobs and hysterical crying of a snappily-dressed "mystery woman" for a time yesterday, disrupted the trial of Charles E. Homeyer, lonely hearts lover accused of murdering his fifth wife.

District Attorney Robert C. Trembath called the woman to testify, announcing the name "Gertrude Edwards" but she refused to go forward, even when a State trooper urged her. Instead, she stood by a window and her whole body shook with sobs. A few minutes previously Homeyer had recognized her in the crowded court room and given her a smile, his first show of emotion since the trial began Monday morning.

No indication of the woman's home address or what her testimony would be was given but reporters were given to understand in a roundabout way that she was Homeyer's fourth wife.

He is accused of killing his fifth wife, Anna Snellman Homeyer, at their Factoryville home in late March, 1950, and dismembering her body to hide the crime.

Increases Voted

Washington (AP) — The Senate yesterday passed a bill which would raise the federal share of social security payments by $233,624,000 a year and bring a $5-a-month increase in grants to the aged.

Recommend Citations

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Contempt citations against former Miami Sheriff Jimmy Sullivan and one-time Capone mobster Leo Accardo were recommended yesterday by the U. S. Senate Crime committee.

Fine Attempts Back-Home Pressure Of Foes Of Tax Program; Walker Charges 'Reprisal'

Harrisburg (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine yesterday put back-home pressure on General Assembly opponents of any new taxes.

"Reprisal," promptly cried Sen. John M. Walker, Republican Senate leader and an arch foe of all-but-dead State income tax.

Walker commented on a telegram Fine sent to Pittsburgh that opponents of new taxes "continue to play fast and loose with their commitments on worthy projects" in the State.

The developments came as the General Assembly ended the 25th week of the 1951 session without any signs of agreement on the tax-budget impasse.

The Governor sent this telegram to Arthur B. VanBuskirk, Pittsburgh:

"You have every right to expect that the 'governor and the members of the Legislature will fulfill their commitments—.' I shall do my utmost to keep mine. I disavow any responsibility for any failure of the Legislature to keep its commitments. Certain members of the Senate, including four from your county, continue to play fast and loose with their commitments on worthy projects like Point Park and its kind. I would deplore the absence of necessary revenues to continue any worthwhile project to which the State is committed. Obviously available revenues must first be allocated and applied to matters of necessary human needs."

Walker, in the Senate at the time the telegram was given out, immediately dictated this statement to reporters:

"It is true that five (not four) of the Senators from Allegheny county are in opposition to the suggested flat income tax.

"I gather from the releases of the Governor's office that appropriations will be awarded as political plums. I still think the unnecessary appropriations should be cut first and projects approved on their merits.

"Thirty-two members of the Senate are convinced it can be done. It is a deplorable thing if their districts are to be punished by this reprisal method."

A dozen GOP Senators and the solid block of 20 Democratic Senators are opposing the Governor's House-passed one-half of one per cent income tax or any other new levy. The Governor insisted the $119,000,000 income levy is needed to balance the State's $1,200,000,000 budget.

Elderly Man Overcome By Hot Weather

Harry Dreher, about 80, of 21 N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg, was overcome by yesterday's stifling heat as he crossed Main St., in front of the Colonial diner at 3 p. m.

Passersby, who noticed the ailing man, placed him in a chair which was brought to the curb, and police and Monroe County General hospital were notified.

When the hospital advised Stroudsburg State police substation that the ambulance was out on a patient call in the Sciota area, Pfc. Stephen Sabin enlisted the aid of a motorist who drove the unconscious man to the hospital.

The elderly victim was partially revived as the car, an open convertible, proceeded toward the hospital.

At the hospital, he responded to medical treatment and was later discharged.

Mr. Transue has operated his business in this region for many years. The U. S. Royal Tire franchise award has been followed with a complete stock of all sizes and types of the famous tire.

The Federal Reserve Bank in Philadelphia, serving this region, said yesterday that for the first time since last July, the number of production workers in Pennsylvania factories declined slightly, with 1,195,000 employed in May.

Seasonal slackness and reduced demand in some of the soft goods industries accounted for the rather large declines in that division of four per cent in employment, five per cent in payrolls, and six per cent in working time.

Compared with a year ago, however, employment, payrolls, and working time were higher by 10, 25 and 12 per cent. Durable goods industries accounted for 60 per cent of the number employed currently, and reported increases considerably above the aggregate. An advance of 16 cents in average hourly earnings in the year and a slightly longer work week raised weekly earnings $7.76 above a year ago.

MAID OF THE MIST

The Budget Impasse

The new fiscal period for Pennsylvania State Government started 22 days ago. But we're still no closer to a State Budget for the next two years than we were then.

Governor Fine still is insisting on the $1,220,000,000 budget he presented to the Legislature, and a State income tax —or some other new tax—to raise 119 million dollars of that sum.

Senator Montgomery F. Crowe, (R-Monroe) and 11 other Republicans in the State Senate who blocked the income tax bill, still are standing pat. Together with 20 Democratic senators, they can and will—according to their last word—continue to block the tax.

Nineteen other Republican senators apparently are willing to go along with the Governor. But they're a minority of the Senate.

The Senate isn't likely to get any budget if this continues. Somebody's got to agree to a compromise. And The Daily Record suggests that that somebody is Governor Fine.

To ask the people of Pennsylvania to pay a new income tax before the budget has been cleaned of all fat and before revenue estimates are upped to the point where they belong is arbitrary and capricious.

If Governor Fine stands pat, perhaps the deadlock will continue. But in time, even his own supporters should see the wisdom of making the State Government live within its means when that is clearly possible.

Enforcement the Key

Pennsylvania will have laid effective groundwork for battling the dope traffic if a bill just passed by the House of Representatives is approved by the Senate and Governor. But real enforcement will continue to be the key.

One of the sponsors is a Pittsburgh physician, a Democrat, Dr. George D. Sarraf. The second is a Philadelphia Republican, Louis Sax.

Stiff fines and prison sentences are provided by this measure. Penalties would be graduated according to offense. For the first conviction, the maximum would be $2000 fine or three years in jail or both. For the third, the fine would be $6000 and jail term 7½ to 15 years.

But all the laws in the world won't curtail the illicit traffic of greedy peddlers unless there is good local enforcement. There might even be question whether any new laws are needed even now—but they won't hurt and may help.

The insidious traffic has spread widely in recent months; unusual numbers of school children have been enmeshed, especially in the large cities. If the evil is to be eliminated or minimized in Pennsylvania, police, courts and others will have to cooperate.

Extra Care

This is the time of the year when police, motorists, and auto clubs get the jitters—and when frequent and forceful warnings are given to drivers to be more than usually careful.

Thousands of youngsters are on summer-long vacations. Some of them continue to play on the street; more bicycle riders travel the busy highways; more boys and girls are crossing streets on errands and for purposes of their own.

Parental instruction and solicitude in keeping their children from the streets when consistently possible are of benefit; children need to remember safety lessons they have been taught and to remain alert at all times.

But regardless of all other safeguards, motorists do well to exert those extra ounces of care that help, more especially in areas where children are apt to play or to run into streets.

The summer accident toll among children is always regrettably high. Only constant watchfulness and care will prevent its zooming.

Producer Harry Kurnitz (who signs his mystery novels "Marco Page") reports that one MGM executive is so unstrung by international uncertainties, every time he dines at the commissary they forcibly remove his necktie and shoelaces.

Kurnitz ran into a bit of trouble on his own account on Wilshire Boulevard recently. He tried sneaking past a red traffic light and was immediately apprehended by not one, but two motorcycles cops. As they closed in for the third degree, the dear, dear girl accompanying Kurnitz made everything ducky for him by crying, "I'm sick of this eternal running away! Let's shoot it out with them now!"

Hollywood — Things that happen only in Movieland: Columbia Pictures is auditioning voices to do the narrating for an unborn baby. The infant is the central character and story-teller even before he arrives, in this Bob Cummings - Barbara Hale domestic comedy . . .

Starlet Jody Lawrence received the week's most unusual gift —an ear from a bull. Curro Caro, prominent Spanish bullfighter, sent her this token of esteem after a recent Tijuana bout in which he was injured. He'd met her, Burt Lancaster, and Gilbert Roland during a visit on their movie set here . . .

Television men got together the other night for a post-mortem on their strikingly successful coverage of MacArthur's arrival at San Francisco. Eleven California stations pooled their efforts to bring the spectacle to 5,000,000 viewers. The 100 engineers averaged three hours' sleep daily for four days. They lived mainly on cheese sandwiches and aspirin. San Francisco issued some 400 press passes, but 800 newsmen jammed the field at arrival time. TV, finding itself maneuvered off a big truck-bed provided for photographers, wangled a baggage truck for one of its cameras. Then video men had literally to fight off interlopers. TV Director Jim Jordan, son of radio's Fibber McGee and Molly, voiced high praise for the announcer who graphically described the plane's landing. In the last-minute crush the mike-man couldn't even see the craft. Jordan, who could see it, told him over the earphones what the camera was picking up.

Alan Young raves over his role in "Aaron Slick from Punkin Crick": "Heretofore I've always been the Best Friend — or the Best Friend's Best Friend. In this one I'm a bumpkin, but I have love scenes. I get to kiss her (Dinah Shore) five times!"

Baritone Robert Merrill, who's in the same picture while in a hassle over his Metropolitan Opera contract, hopes it works out. His ideal course, he said, would be two movies a year, a concert tour — and the Met season . . .

These Days -- By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

Steel

The principal element in the war potential of any country is, in these days, steel capacity. The real power of the United States rests upon the fact that it has the plant and raw materials to produce 96,696,000 tons of steel every year. As compared to the United States, Soviet Russia has a capacity of 26,500,000 tons. It is, however, important to note that while Soviet Russia produced no steel in 1917, it is now in second place. Furthermore, in a totalitarian country, the government is in a position to use the entire output of any commodity without the slightest regard to consumers' necessities.

Comparing the western powers with the Soviet satellites, these are the figures:

Western Powers

| | Tons |
|---|---|
| United States | 96,696,000 |
| United Kingdom | 18,078,000 |
| Western Germany | 13,101,000 |
| France | 9,108,000 |
| Japan | 4,970,000 |
| Belgium | 3,863,000 |
| Canada | 3,270,000 |
| Luxemburg | 2,560,000 |
| Italy | 2,503,000 |
| Saar | 1,925,000 |
| Australia | 1,519,000 |
| | 157,593,000 |

Soviet States

| | Tons |
|---|---|
| U.S.S.R. | 26,500,000 |
| Czechoslovakia | 2,850,000 |
| Poland | 2,525,000 |
| Hungary | 875,000 |
| Austria (?) | 1,017,000 |
| | 33,767,000 |

If to this total is added the 1,071,000 tons of Sweden, a country that Soviet Russia can seize quickly, the total can be raised to 34,838,000.

Suppose Russia were able to take all the steel production on the continent of Europe, it would come to 68,802,000 tons, still considerably under Anglo-American production. This, however, presupposes that no European and no American plants would be bombed out of existence. Actually, it must be assumed that the whole of the Western European industry would be bombed out of existence as soon as war started and that some of our plants would suffer.

The steel production of the Anglo-American group alone amounts to:

| | Tons |
|---|---|
| United States | 96,696,000 |
| United Kingdom | 18,078,000 |
| Canada | 3,270,000 |
| Australia | 1,519,000 |
| | 119,563,000 |

No matter how you look at these figures, the United States has, during the past six years of the cold war, produced roughly 50 per cent of the total steel production of the world which is 194,154,0000 tons.

When it comes to availability of the raw material, iron ore, 75 per cent of the known, usable supply is held by five countries, the United States, France, Sweden, Great Birtain and Soviet Russia, with the United States far in the lead, and with nearby Canada fast moving into the field. The Mesabi range of Minnesota and Michigan iron mountains have produced year after year between one-fifth and one-fourth of the world's supply. The Birmingham, Alabama, ore-field is very important. New fields are being developed in Chile, Venezuela and Brazil.

The importance of this data lies in the single fact that the United States can continue to hold its lead as a world power, in spite of the astonishing errors of its policy-makers, as long as it is able to continue to hold the lead in steel.

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Lieut. Gen. Albert Wedemeyer was being polite when he described the sell-out of China to the Russians at Yalta as a blunder. He had listened to Secretary of State Dean Acheson describe how Defense Secretary George C. Marshall and the State department convinced the late President Roosevelt that Russia had to be given control of China so she could aid us in the assault on the Japanese homeland.

Acheson said he didn't know about Japanese peace feelers in 1944-45 and explained that along with Marshall he feared we would take a terrific drubbing if we jumped on Japan alone in the closing months of the war. All of which is poppycock. Washington knew that Japan was looking desperately for a way out.

One of the big secrets of the Pacific war was the fact that we had broken the Japanese diplomatic code. This was accomplished early in the war and it enabled this government to keep track of almost every big deal the Japs had cooking with other nations. In fact a lot of Japs lost their lives because our cryptographic experts were able to decipher coded messages.

In late 1944 and early 1945 the Japs had been pounded to pieces, our military leaders now admit, and her political leaders were snooping around trying to figure out a way to get out of the mess. They appealed to Russian and Swiss representatives. The Japs wanted our Soviet allies to ask us what kind of surrender terms we would settle for.

The Russians never bothered to pass along the information to the Pentagon or the State department, since they wanted in the worst way to get into the Jap war to claim some of the booty. But Marshall and Acheson knew all about those surrender feelers. So did Gen. Douglas MacArthur and probably Chiang Kai-shek.

The reason everybody knew the Japs were ready to quit is that every time they sent a message to Moscow, squealing for help, we intercepted and decoded it.

That was done at the Pentagon and it was done at Gen. MacArthur's headquarters in the Pacific. The reason I know is that military aides in his headquarters have told me so.

Despite this, Marshall and the State department pumped Roosevelt full of boloney about how badly we needed Russia in the Japanese war, so he was softened up as an easy touch for Stalin. Of course, Stalin had told Cordell Hull in 1943 that he would come into the Japanese war anyway, without any demands. American Communists were smarter than Stalin on this one. They fixed it up so Roosevelt was completely sold on the idea that we had to hand over half of China before they would help us out. As it was, they were in the war only 10 days before the Japs called it quits.

Neither Gen. MacArthur nor Chiang Kai-shek was invited to Yalta where the sell-out was confirmed. They knew too much about how punchy the Japs were and both would have balked at bribing the Russians with Chinese territory.

So when Acheson and Marshall try and get by with the lame excuse that we had to hand over chunks of China to get Russia in the war they are talking down a wind tunnel. The idea they are trying to peddle is that Japan was still strong and would exact a half-million American casualties before we could have captured the home islands. In fact, they insist Japan was still full of fight in 1945.

If they are right then the Army Air force and the Navy didn't accomplish much and our interceptions of the Japanese peace messages, as a result of having cracked the Nip code, were meaningless.

The fact is that we shortened the Pacific war by many months because we had the Nips' code secrets .

State department and military officials in Washington ignored the Japanese peace feelers when it came time to deal with Stalin at Yalta. If they wanted to give Russia something just out of affection for the Soviet Union they should step up now and say so. We ought to know all of the Russian buddies in this country.

All we get from them now is that they are great haters of the Soviet way of life. Either they have changed their views about Russia or they were too stupid to understand that Japan was ready to call it quits long before Russia was bribed to enter the fray. The Japs admitted it—on the record—both at MacArthur's headquarters and in Washington. Yet we got sold out at Yalta, along with China. And the senators let them wiggle out of confessing their blunder.

Just a newspaper clipping, apparently from one of the columns.

With it a little slip of paper.

This is what the clipping says:

"Man, proud man,
Drest in a little brief authority,
Most ignorant of what he's most assured.
His glassy essence, like an angry ape,
Plays such fantastic tricks before high heaven,
As make the angels weep.
—Shakespeare."

That's all for the clipping.

The slip that came with it was typewritten.

The content: "Do you know WHO?"

The signature: "Disillusioned Democrat."

The whole thing intrigued me. Did I know whom the sender had in mind? I think I do.

The quotation seemed familiar, but I couldn't place it. I looked all through my Shakespeare to find in what play and in what connection he wrote it. I haven't found it yet—but I found others that seem to indicate that Shakespeare was not only a poet but a prophet as well.

Most certainly he was a philosopher, who knew human nature —that never changing, mysterious element.

May I make one thing clear: Any resemblance to a living person or persons in these quotations will depend strictly on your own interpretation.

If the shoe fits anyone whom or of whom you know—blame it on Shakespeare, not me.)

Here is one from Romeo and Juliet:

"Taffeta phrases, silken terms precise,
Three-piled hyperboles, spruce affectation,
Figures pedantical; these summer flies
Have blown me full of maggot ostentation."

This one from Julius Caesar:

"Lowliness is young ambition's ladder,
Whereto the climber upwards turns his face;
But when he once obtains the upmost round,
He then unto the ladder turns his back,
Looks in the clouds, scorning the base degrees
By which he did ascend."

From Othello:

"When rich villains have need of poor ones,
Poor ones may make what price they will."

From Coriolanus:

"There's a great spirit gone! Thus did I desire it:
what our contempts do often hurl from us,
We wish it ours again."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Whither Bound, Video?

The doctors who examine prize fighters before the bout are examing the wrong people. They should examine the video set owners. The limiting of the telecast of the Louis-Savold fight to theaters only and the decision to take the same routine with the next big heavyweight bout has the fireside fight followers groggier than Louis or Savold ever were. They are staggering around, glassy-eyed and wigwagging for help. With football about to limit telecasts, and with all sports promoters studying the theater idea, it is possible the sports world menu on which the American living room will have to feed will be extra sparse.

There are pessimists who fear all they will be able to get from video may be programs in which Howdy Doody wrestles Garroway-at-Large, fights are limited to five rounds between Uncle Miltie and We The People, and the fall football battles are between teams made up of Groucho Marx's guests and Mrs. Roosevelt's panels.

Is video to continue as a funnel for the free show or will the set soon be a combination slot machine, phone booth and tambourine? What are the possibilities that Faye Emerson may ultimately be visible only in chain nickolets, that Berle will use his seltzer bottle routine only for people who put coins in a slot and that puppets will be available only as part of the telephone service?

Radio was always "for free," but its child, Video, has taken over in so many fields that the "gate" has been blitzed, confronting the business office with the problem of collecting from the armchair audience. The outdoor fight promoters were first to take matters in hand by limiting a fight broadcast to a group of chain movie houses. The "videots" resent the "no dough no show" routine and another little world war is in the making. The television audience has come to regard video as its "knothole on the world." And it doesn't like the idea of the hole being plugged up.

Ideas for the pay-as-you-enter system on video are busting out all over. First there was "phonevision" through which a scrambled telecast is unscrambled and the charge put on the phone bill. Then came a device to be bought and attached to the video set. And there are numerous ideas for coin slots on the machines. A video set with built-in derby hat, to be passed automatically, is probably in a blueprint stage somewhere. (The ideal video set, which Elmer Twitchell has in mind, will have cash register attachments, a complete price list of major events and a miniature icebox enabling a videot to get a cold beer without leaving the picture.)

"Look what that television set cost me last month!" people may soon be screaming. "We have got to scrimp on some of these telecasts or go bankrupt." Or "How come there are charges for four football games on this month's bill? I only saw three."

There will be many headaches before the problem is solved. Personally, we favor leaving football, baseball and fights on the video free-show menu and putting the puppets, cooking lessons and panels in the chain theaters.

The Bayer Aspirin people recently advertised a headache . . . Milton Berle is now a musical comedy producer. This shows he has so much money it has ceased to be important. . . . # Success Of Laurel Festival Presages Bigger Affair In 1952

Revival Of Celebration Shows Profit

Revival of the Laurel Blossom Time Festival in the Poconos—climaxed Wednesday night with a coronation ball—not only showed a profit, according to a check of incomplete returns yesterday, but provided the basis for report from Walter Fossa, who so ably carried out details of the affair, to Vacation Bureau directors.

This report will deal with every phase of the show and together with proceeds will form the basis for a long-range planning program for a 1952 festival patterned in many respects after the elaborate affairs of the early 1930s when Laurel Time observance was inaugurated in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Fossa said in at least one respect this year's affair was an interesting experiment. It proved Laurel ball can be a success on sheer publicity in newspapers, radio and by mail. He pointed out "no tickets were peddled, no one was penalized to buy tickets, no pressures were applied."

"It was a real test of whether Pocono Mountains businessmen in every category really wanted Laurel time promoted," he said. "While many weaknesses were discovered, the response was so excellent that solicited sales and pressure sales would have created a tremendous crush," he added.

Mr. Fossa said that this year's effort means that next year a three-week Laurel Blossom Festival can be an event talked about all over United States and Canada.

"It can be done, but every businessman from the small fellow right up to the big ones must give it some time and money," he declared. "Vacation dollars pay off to everyone, so the more dollars go into such a project the more prosperity results. It's as simple as that."

Miss Ruth Hussey, who will star next week in "The Royal Family" at Pocono Playhouse, Mountainhome, said it was "so much fun to have been a part of the celebration". She is the official Pocono Laurel Queen for 1951.

Ted Malone, the ABC commentator who crowned Miss Hussey, not only said he will mention the Poconos over ABC Sunday, July 1 at 2:45 p.m., but offered his services for any event in this region.

It is interesting to know what a strain the professional models who worked the fashion show were under. They worked all that hot Wednesday in New York, skipped to Les Drake's big airport cab and arrived at Shawnee ten minutes ahead of their appearance time.

Without eating they went on their modeling duty here and left immediately afterwards for New York.

Fran Gardner, coordinator for Percy Lembke's "Fashions by Joyce" which made the show possible, did a great job of keeping the show rolling after a long day in New York.

Mr. Fossa paid tribute to the great work and time given by Tom Waring and the LaBar Rhododendron nursery experts and crew in setting up the background for the Queen's throne.

THE BCI states that recently Eric Johnson warned the United States that we might shortly feel the pinch of civilian shortages.

But on the list of possible shortages there was no mention of COAL. This year coal will provide heat for eighteen million homes and also fill the mounting demands of economic mobilization. But no coal shortage is forseen. Coal mines continue to work with ever increasing efficiency, largely as a result of investment in new power tools for mines.

And now, when the job of rearming calls for more and better coal the coal operators are prepared to meet every foreseeable demand, come peace or war.

Wyker Hillpot Dies At Home Of Daughter

Wyker Hillpot, 81, a retired Pennsylvania Railroad trainman, died here at 7.45 last night at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Walters, 1 Bell Terrace.

Mr. Hillpot, who had resided in the Stroudsburg area for the last 38 years, had made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Walters for the past 10 years.

Prior to that, he resided in East Stroudsburg, Phillipsburg, N. J. He came to East Stroudsburg when the Pennsylvania Railroad moved the terminus of its Bel-Del division from Manuca Chunk near Belvidere, N. J., to East Stroudsburg.

Mr. Hillpot retired 15 years ago after more than 50 years of railroad service. He was an active member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen 45 years.

Although an amputee in later years, he was deeply interested in sports and was an ardent follower of the Stroudsburg Poconos of the North Atlantic league. During his wheelchair visits to Giffels Field, he became personally acquainted with many of the athletes who performed here for the Class D club.

His health had been failing for the past two years, however, and confined him to his home for the last nine months.

The last of 13 children, Mr. Hillpot is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Walters; three granddaughters, Mrs. Robert Ahnert, Bushkill; Mrs. Fred Rhodes, Stroudsburg, and Mrs. James Kitchen, also of Stroudsburg; and four great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 1.30 p.m. Monday at the Lanterman funeral home, East Stroudsburg. Interment will be in Prospect cemetery. Rev. William F. Wunder, pastor of Grace Lutheran church of East Stroudsburg, will officiate. Friends may pay respects at the funeral home from 7 to 9 p.m. Sunday.

Car Upsets On Route 12 Near Sciota

Sciota—A car driven by Helen Mindlin 23, of Bethlehem, upset along Route 12 west of here at 10 a. m. Wednesday, State police of the Brodheadsville substation disclosed yesterday.

Miss Mindlin was traveling west on Route 12, police said, when she pulled out to pass two passenger cars and a truck in line ahead of her.

She passed the other cars and was approaching the truck when it swerved to the left to pass a car proceeding ahead of it.

Miss Mindlin told troopers that she was forced to pull farther to the left, eventually going off the road where the car overturned.

She escaped unhurt, but body damages to the 1950 light model coupe were estimated in excess of $600. Police said she was the only occupant of the vehicle.

Adolph Rake Campaigns For Commissioner

W. A. (Adolph) Rake, owner and operator of A. L. Rake & Son, local builders, said yesterday he will make an aggressive campaign for the Republican nomination for county commissioner in Monroe county.

Mr. Rake is a graduate of East Stroudsburg High school, where he was active in basketball and baseball.

His firm was engaged in the building of the new General hospital addition, one of the most recent of many construction projects in which he has been engaged.

Mr. Rake has been working since at an early age and during High school days kept books for his father's building firm. He left college to work and start his own building firm in New York City and White Plains, N. Y., at the age of 21, as an apprentice to earn his way through school.

Returning to East Stroudsburg he started the firm of A. L. Rake & Son, estimating and securing first contract for that firm—the East Stroudsburg Municipal building—in 1926.

During the past 25 years, Mr. Rake has provided the estimate for bidding some 12 millions of dollars worth of construction work. He has completed 6,000 jobs, large and small. Many of the county's finest homes, the Stroudsburg Municipal building, addition to the Court house and Middle Smithfield township school were in these projects.

Mr. Rake is a property owner and taxpayer in both Stroudsburgs and townships. He also has a farming interest in the region.

Both on his father's and mother's side, he steps from pioneers ranging back to Virginia settlers in 1654. His son, W. A. Rake Jr., is a student at University of Pennsylvania.

This is Mr. Rake's first bid for public office.

Contractors Authorized To Build Canopy

Stroudsburg council last night authorized contractors in charge of demolition of the structures now on the site of the new J. J. Newberry store to construct a canopy over sidewalks both on N. Sixth St. and Main St.

The canopy on N. Sixth St. will run to the end of the demolition point and some 99 feet on Main St. to allow free flow of pedestrians under a protective cover during operations. The protective canopy is to be erected under supervision of Borough Engineer Edward C. Hess.

Council also agreed to rent two parking meter spaces on N 7th St. to Stroudsburg Kiwanis club to allow people to park to view a huge electric map sign of the Poconos Mountain region which the club has purchased. Rental was fixed at $10 a year per meter.

The sign will be erected on the side of Stroudsburg Security Trust Co. building and will serve visitors and others seeking directions to specific points and spots. It will also show visitors just what recreational points are available to them Winter and Summer.

Council adjourned to meet in regular session again on July 9.

Truck Strikes Culvert But Driver Unhurt

A truck owned by the Shiffer Bituminous Service, of Stroudsburg, was extensively damaged at 8:05 a. m. yesterday when it hit a culvert and overturned on Dreher Ave., at the borough line.

The load of stone dust in the vehicle was spilled on the highway and at the roadside, but Howard Buzzard, 46, of Stroudsburg RD 2, driver of the truck, escaped uninjured.

According to Stroudsburg borough police, Buzzard was traveling east on Dreher Ave. when he pulled to the right side of the highway where the right rear wheel under the loaded dump-type box struck a culvert.

This collision threw the truck out of control and it tipped over on the macadam pavement. Buzzard miraculously was unhurt, although he reportedely remained in the cab as the vehicle rolled over.

Chief James McConnell, who investigated, said Officer William Dwyer, of the Stroudsburg force, was the first to reach the overturned truck. Officer Dwyer told him he ran to the cab to see if the driver was pinned inside, but that Buzzard made his way out of the other side of the upset vehicle at that moment.

Dwyer, off duty at the time and driving his own pleasure car, had passed the truck going east on Dreher Ave. and was approximately 50 yards ahead of the truck when he heard a crash as the truck struck the culvert.

He stopped his car and ran back when he looked in his rear view mirror and saw the truck overturn.

Chief McConnell said the culvert was concealed from Buzzard's view by high grass growing along the edge of the highway. The two tires on the right rear of the dump truck blew out and threw the heavy load off balance, he said.

Stroudsburg State police said last night that they also have completed an investigation of the mishap. They set damages to the truck in the neighborhood of $1,200.

Salvation Army Needs Funds To Send Children To Camp

Supplemental funds are urgently needed to send a group of underprivileged children under training by the local Salvation Army to summer encampment.

Some of the clubs of the community, conducting drives among their members have obtained some funds at the request of Major May Adam. However, more money is needed.

First group of 20 children is due to leave for Camp Ai-Yuk-Pa near Forks, Pa., for ten days of recreation, training in crafts and Bible study. It costs $12.50 per child for ten days.

Two more groups are scheduled to go if funds are available. Both will number around 20 each.

Funds should be sent or taken to the Salvation Army in East Stroudsburg for this worthy cause.

Customers' Corner

What do you consider good service in a food store? Do you get it at your A&P?

Of course, we expect all our employees to be friendly and courteous. But we think good service goes beyond that. We train our employees to be prompt, efficient, helpful and accurate as well.

Good service also requires that the store itself be clean, well stocked and well operated.

Anytime your A&P doesn't measure up to these yardsticks of good service, our loyal employees want to know about it. Please write:

Milk Price May Advance Cent July 1

The State Milk Control commission yesterday proposed a one-cent-a-quart boost in the price of milk in Monroe county and other parts of the Allentown (Lehigh) milk marketing area.

A similar increase was tentatively ordered for the Harrisburg, Lancaster, Reading and York areas, together with a one-half cent raise in Philadelphia. All increases would become effective July 1.

Commissioners Charles J. O'Laughlin and John J. Snyder submitted the tentative boosts at conferences with dealers and producers in Harrisburg. The milk control law requires the conferences before price changes may be posted officially.

The new price orders and testimony given at hearings yesterday will be forwarded to the Office of Price Stabilization and hence are still subject to change.

The present price of milk in Monroe county is 21 cents a quart. The price paid farmers for Class 1 milk is $5.50 a hundredweight. This would be revised upward to $5.85 along with the 22 cents a quart to be charged consumers.

The present area of Germany, split into four zones of occupation, is 143,200 square miles.

Garden Club's State Award Announced At Laurel Tea

Crowning touch of the Monroe County Garden club's annual Tea held yesterday as the guests of LaBar's Rhododendron Nursery, was the announcement that the club had been awarded the white ribbon special award of merit at the annual State convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Garden clubs.

The citation which accompanied the White Ribbon award, hailed the contribution of the club to the Laurel Trail at Bowman's Hill Wild Flower preserve, and the work of the Wild Flower Study group in collecting specimens, and was awarded on a competitive bases.

Mrs. William Hawn, new president of the club, made the announcement during her report of the state convention held at Bryn Mawr College. Mrs. A. Starr Phelps, the club's second delegate, also gave other highlights of the convention, particularly those of horticultural interest.

The meeting was held on the lawn at LaBar's Nursery and opened with music arranged by Mrs. Robert Miller, which included celeste solos by Gene Schiller: "Minuet" by Boccherini; "Glockenspiel", Mozart; "Singing Fountain", Niemann; and a group of Italian songs.

She also played the celeste accompaniment for the solos of Anne George: "Moonbeams" by Victor Herbert; "Laughing Song," Strauss; "The House that Jack Built," Sidney Homer; "At Parting," Rogers; "The End of a Perfect Day," Carrie Jacobs Bond.

Russell Harmon was the chief speaker of the afternoon, speaking on the varieties of heath, which lend themselves well to modern plantings. Little known at present, they are rapidly gaining enthusiasts where they have been used. They include the box huckleberry, which botanists have termed the oldest living thing, he said. He showed the various types of heath native to this country, and concluded his talk by demonstrating the wrong and the right way of pruning shubbery.

The members and their guests were greeted at the tea by the past presidents of the club in a formal reception line. They included Mrs. Edward C. Knob, Mrs. Elmer Kiefer, Mrs. A. Starr Phelps, Mrs. Eli Travis, Mrs. Russell Hamblin, Mrs. Arthur L. Helmes and Mrs. Lynn K. Lewis, a charter member of the group.

Punch and cookies were served after the program by the committee headed by Mrs. Russell Harmon, which included Mrs. John Glasson, Mrs. Edward Kenney, Mrs. W. K. LaBar, Mrs. Ralph Moock, Miss Aimee Girard, Miss Lucie Girard, Mrs. Edwin Treible, Mrs. Russell Imbt, Mrs. George Robinson, Mrs. LeRoy Koehler, and Mrs. William Walton. Mrs. Elwood Grant provided the laurel for decorations.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Well, the Garden club's Laurel tea had everything but tea — and laurel. It's a little late for the laurel at the Nursery, but there were bouquets of it on the tables. And it was much too hot for tea, so there was the best punch in a laurel tone.

And the cakes—I realize you shouldn't be so materialistic, but the open air certainly sent me sprinting for the tea table as soon as the program was over—and then everybody discovered it was a mighty hard place to leave.

Anyway what with everybody so proud of their state award, and Russell Harmon doing a neat switch by describing how a shrub felt about a pruning, it was an elegant meeting, even without the music.

And you'd have thought that Gene Schiller and Anne George had a full symphony accompaniment, the way all the birds in the county sang to keep them company. There was one bird that even added a little aerial ballet number in time to the music.

Youths Show How They Work At WSCS Meeting

Actual demonstration of the youth work in the church was presented last night at the final meeting of the Womens' Society of Christian Service of the East Stroudsburg Methodist church. Mrs. Kenneth Stine, secretary of youth work, described the many activities, and Patricia Stiff read a report on the young people's work and study.

A transcribed play was presented by a group of young people in a modern version of the Prodigal Son.

Mrs. Evelyn McKibbin, secretary of children's work presented a group of juniors who sang "Living for Jesus," with John Eaton as accompanist. Mrs. Dale Learn was program chairman.

Mrs. Henry Evans led the devotions, and Mrs. Isabel Leedom presided at the business meeting. Plans were made to entertain the district meeting at their church in the fall ,and the summer sessions at Pocono Plateau were announced for July 7-14.

The auxiliary presented a set of dishes and a tablecloth to Miss Barbara Hartman who will soon be leaving for Africa as a missionary.

Mrs. Leedom gave the highlights of the WSCS conference in the Arch St. Methodist church, Philadelphia.

Strawberry shortcake was served by the members of Mrs. Stem's Circle 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Bush spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wydner, of Hatchery Road, Hackettstown, where Mrs. Wydner entertained at a birthday party in honor of Mr. Bush.

Day Camp For Girl Scouts Set For August

The Girl Scout Day camp will be held this year in August rather than in July as it has been for the past three years, it was decided last night at the meeting of the Girl Scout Council of Monroe County held at the Girl Scout House on Sarah St.

The camp was set for a later date this year so that the campers could use the new shelter which will be erected there through the cooperative efforts of the community on the Girl Scout land on Mosier's Knob.

Mrs. Harold C. Edwards, county president, presided at the meeting, and Mrs. William Miller, camping chairman, reported on the progress of the building plans. Other routine reports were given by chairmen.

Now They Know What Mountain Feudin' Means

Going to visit relatives at Camp Breckenridge, a trio of local women almost found themselves in a shooting war of their own in the Kentucky mountains, they reported on their return.

Miss Betty Johnson of Reeders, Miss Mary Heller, of East Stroudsburg and Mrs. Floyd Moyer, of McMichaels were on their way to visit Dale Johnson and Kenneth Moyer at Camp Breckenridge, and when they inquired directions in Cincinnati were directed to Breckenridge county, rather than the camp.

Stopping at a little town in the hills, they were surprised to learn that none of the residents had even heard of Camp Breckenridge. However on the map they could see a road leading to Louisville. What the map didn't show, however, was that the road went through some of the wildest hill country in Kentucky.

They drove through the wilderness, dotted with shacks where the children ran outside with no clothes on, but nowhere could they find a place to stay. About 2:30 in the morning they pulled up to what seemed to be a deserted shack to sleep in their car. They were hardly settled when shots rang out, and an old man came out and ordered them to leave.

They left, in a hurry, and didn't stop until they reached Louisville. On their return journey they went two hundred miles out of their way to avoid going back over the same route, which was a little too picturesque for them.

Meeting After Lodge Tonight

Sciota Rebekah Lodge No. 22, will hold a brief business meeting tonight at 8 p. m. at the IOOF hall preceding an open program.

Dog Stays Close To Master Even When Least Expected

Henryville — Lucky, prized pet dog of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Scheffer, apparently got tired of seeing his master take off for New York City after a week-end in the country and did a sly bit of hitch-hiking the other day.

The Scheffers missed Lucky Sunday afternoon. Before Mr. Scheffer left for the city, he and Mrs. Scheffer toured the country-side seeking their dog.

The Scheffers gave up in despair and Mr. Scheffer headed in to New York.

Scheffer got the shock of his life when he opened the car trunk. There was Lucky. The Scheffers figured he hopped into the trunk when Scheffer opened it to take out some tools.

Lucky got a ride back to Henryville Monday night to join Mrs. Scheffer for a full week in the country.

Everett Case

Case, Engle, Walker Feature Clinic Lectures

Everett Case, soft-spoken head basketball coach at North Carolina State, made his first appearance at the eighth annual Eastern Pennsylvania Scholastic Coaches Association clinic and was well received by the more than 80 student coaches who were on hand for his lecture in the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College gymnasium yesterday afternoon.

Case stressed fundamentals most of the afternoon, and used the championship Allentown High school basketball team for demonstrative purposes. The Allentown club also scrimmaged for Case at the end of his lecture. Allentown won the PIAA state title last winter.

Basketball will hold the fort again this afternoon, when Case lectures from 1:15 to 4:45, at which time the seventh clinic of its type to be held at ESSTC will come to an end.

Football

Charley "Rip" Engle, Penn State's head football coach, lectured yesterday morning from 8:30 to 10:30, on the winged-T, assisted by Sever Torretti, of the Penn-State staff.

Douglas "Peahead" Walker, former head grid mentor at Wake Forest and present assistant at Yale, spoke on the "T" formation from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. yesterday. It was Walker's final appearance at this year's clinic.

Engle will lecture again today, beginning at 8:30 a.m. and ending at 12:30 p.m.

Jay Archer, founder of "Biddy Basketball" gave a demonstration of his game yesterday afternoon, with two "Biddy" teams on hand to handle the actual demonstrations.

The clinic also held a banquet at ESSTC last night, with Ben Carnevale, head cage mentor at the U. S. Naval Academy, being the featured speaker. Carnevale dealt mainly with the gambling elements in the game today.

Case also spoke at the banquet, which featured the next to the last day of the clinic.

Captures Tennis Crown

Syracuse, N. Y. (AP)—Pablo Eisenberg of Maplewood, N. J., won the Eastern Intercollegiate freshman tennis crown yesterday with a straight-set victory over a fellow Princeton student.

Eisenberg downed Mike Weatherly of Clayton, Mo., 6-3, 6-2, 6-4, on Syracuse University's courts.

Arnold, Peeney Low Among Local Entries

Shawnee - on - Delaware — Tom Robbins, 48 - year - old golfer from Larchmont, N.Y., became the man to beat in the twenty - eighth annual Shawnee Invitation tournament, when he captured medalist honors with a scorching 71, one under par figures, here yesterday, as a field of 78 sought to qualify for the first of several major tournaments to be held at the local course this summer.

Robbins, who won the West Chester County (NY) Seniors crown for the third straight year last week, with a 69, had a par 37 on the front nine yesterday but came home with a 34, one under regulation figures.

An accurate putter carried the New Yorker to the medalist honors, as he carded five birds, two on the outgoing nine and three on the back nine.

Next in Line

James Raymond, also of Larchment, was next in line with a par 73, while Ellis Taylor, Delaware State Amateur champion from Newark, Del., finished with a 74, due to faulty approaches.

Robbins is paired with Jack Dobbs, New York, in the first round match today, while Raymond faces Gerald Peet, veteran campaigner from Easton and Taylor stacks up against Olin Gerrochi, Oakland Hills, N. Y. The first round is scheduled to begin at 9 a m.

Pete Arnold, Stroudsburg, and Walter Peeney, East Stroudsburg, were low among the local group of entries, each with an 84 on identical scores of 43-41. Bill Nixon and Augie Lockwitch, both of Stroudsburg, accounted for 86s. Nixon had a 47-39 round, while Lockwitch put together a pair of 43s.

Larry Ross, East Stroudsburg, had a 48-48—96, while Joe Barnes, Stroudsburg, fashioned a 50-49 score.

Those remaining in the tournament will play 18 holes today and the survivors of the first round will see further action tomorrow and Sunday.

Ed Meister, Cleveland, O., is the defending champion in the tournament.

Flam Advances In Net Tourney

London (AP)— Herb Flam, America's second-ranking player, squeezed into the semi-finals of the London Lawn Tennis championships yesterday as three American women swept into the semifinals of the women's division.

The 21-year-old Beverly Hills, Calif., star outlasted stocky Torsten Johannsson of Sweden to win 6-3, 4-6, 12-10, and gained the right to meet top-ranking Frank Sedgman of Australia in the semi-finals today. Sedgman, who has been seeded first in the Wimbledon tournament, also was carried to an extra set before he could eliminate Vladimir Cernik of Egypt, 2-6, 7-5, 6-2.

Columbia Coach Resigns

New York (AP)—Gordon Ridings stepped down as head basketball coach at Columbia, and Lou Rossini, who guided the Lions through an undefeated season and to the Ivy League title last season, was named to succeed him yesterday.

Chandler Sets Quitting Date

by Claude Wolff

Cincinnati (AP)—A. B. Chandler signed himself out yesterday as commissioner of baseball, resigning effective July 15.

He asserted he quit at his own terms.

He said he wanted to stay on the job until after the all-star game at Detroit on July 10 and the dedication of a baseball park at Reading, Pa., a few days later.

It was the final act of baseball drama which began late last year when the major league club owners, in a stunning action, refused to renew Chandler's contract for another seven years.

That contract ends next April 30. But baseball, not wanting a "lame duck" commissioner, decided to take up the contract, which calls for $65,000 a year salary.

In New York, a few days ago, they agreed to Chandler's terms —legal protection from any suit against baseball and a date of resignation to be set by him.

Chandler, in turn, agreed to defend baseball in the several suits against it, all of them challenging the constitutionally of the reserve clause written in every player's contract.

That clause binds a player to the club which signs him, and is the lifeline of the game.

PAH, Penn-Stroud Hotel Score Victories In Little League Games At Local Playgrounds

Peters-Arnold-Howell took the measure of the Methodists in the East Stroudsburg Little League last night, 9-8, while the Penn-Stroud Hotel won over People's Coal Co., 17-5, in the Stroudsburg Little League. The games were played at the playgrounds of the respective boroughs.

The East Stroudsburg Little League encounter found both clubs getting off to a flying start, with the Methodists holding a 7-6 edge at the end of the second stanza and the count all tied at the end of the third. However, PAH tallied twice in the fifth, while the Methodists carded only one in the bottom of the sixth and final inning. Pope and Carter hit homers, the latter's a grand slam affair.

Big Edge

Penn-Stroud Hotel held the upper hand throughout the Stroudsburg Little League contest, picking up a 7-0 lead at the end of the second frame and putting the contest on ice with a seven-run outburst in the final stanza.

Tonight's schedule in the East Stroudsburg Little League calls for the R. C. Cramer Lumber Co. and National Bank to clash at 6:30, at the East Stroudsburg playground. The National Bank and People's Coal meet in the Stroudsburg loop tonight, also at 6:30, at the Stroudsburg playground. This is a make-up game.

Detroit Takes Measure Of Athletics, 9-3

Philadelphia (AP)—Bob Cain held the Philadelphia Athletics to seven hits, one a home run by hurler Carl Scheib, to give Detroit a 9 to 3 victory yesterday.

It was Cain's sixth victory in ten decisions.

Scheib hit his homer in the third with the bases empty.

This was the only run Cain allowed until weakening in the ninth. Then he struck Dave Philley with a pitched ball, whereupon Gus Zernial doubled and Ferris Fain clubbed a two-run single.

No Worries

But Cain never had any serious worries after the fourth inning. Singles by Gerry Priddy, George Kell and Dick Kryhoski, coupled with a base-filling walk, got him off to a 2-0 start, and two more crossed in the fourth on a pair of walks and a single by Priddy which was complicated by an error by Philley.

Triples by Pat Mullin and Vic Wertz set up single runs in the fifth and seventh. Scheib departed, charged with his seventh defeat in eight verdicts, after walking Kell with the bases loaded and one out in the eighth. Wertz greeted reliever Morris Martin with a two-run single.

Eagles, IAM Bow In Softball Tilts

Worthington Mower and Patterson-Kelley scored victories in the Monroe County Softball league last night, with the former taking the measure of the Eagles, 7-6, at the East Stroudsburg playground, while Patterson-Kelley won over IAM, 8-7, at the East Stroudsburg Junior High school field.

Close Games

The Worthington Mower contingent pushed across the winning run in the seventh inning, while Patterson-Kelley was forced to score three times in the ninth to win its game, after IAM had tallied twice in the final frame to break a 5-5 tie that had existed since the seventh and usually final inning.

There are no games scheduled in the league tonight.

Kiner Back To Outfield

Pittsburgh (AP) — Manager Bill Meyer of the Pittsburgh Pirates said yesterday that Ralph Kiner will be shifted from first base to his old left field post in today's game against the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Meyer will alternate first baseman Rocky Nelson and Jack Phillips against right and left hand pitching respectively.

Wins Golf Title

Bedford (AP)—Maurine Riley of New Castle captured the Western Pennsylvania Women's Open Golf championship yesterday as she fired a net 132 in the A-one flight of the annual event.

Roseto Gains Verdict Over Portland, 3-1

Roseto — Roseto A.A. stretched its first place lead in the Blue Mountain League to one full game over Pocono A.C. last night, when the charges of Manager Hal Nerino took the Portland Apollos into camp, 3-1, here at Roseto Park.

Tom Foley, former Pocono Mountain League star, worked the distance for the Roseto team, giving up only five hits, while striking out ten and walking one. The right hander has won both starts since joining the Roseto roster a short time ago.

Homer

Foley was deprived of a shutout when Randall Ott, rival hurler, blasted a home run in the second inning, to give the Apollos a lead that lasted only a couple of minutes.

The league leading Roseto contingent tallied twice in the second frame and pushed across an insurance marker in the bottom of the sixth.

Randall Ott and Barry Transue counted for four of the five Portland hits, as they each came up with a pair of safeties, Ott slamming a double in addition to his home run.

Dick Pritchard, with a pair of singles, was the big gun in Roseto's eight-hit attack.

Johnson Hurls Washington To Favorable Nod Over Browns

Washington, (AP)—The Senators' Don Johnson held his former teammates, the St. Louis Browns, to six hits and beat them, 9-2, last night as Washington supported him with a 13-hit attack against Jim Suchecki, Bill Kennedy and Bob Mahoney. Irv Noren and Mickey Vernon each slammed two-run homers for the Senators.

Johnson posted his third straight win and his second over the Browns as Washington chased Suchecki early. Noren blasted a first inning homer after Gil Coan singled, but the Browns picked up a run in the second inning on a walk to Hank Arft and singles by Fred Marsh and Bob Young.

Hitting

Clyde Klutz's single and Gene Verble's triple fetched Washington a 3-1 lead in the second inning and it mounted to 5-1 in the third when Cass Michaels singled and Vernon smashed a homer.

Walks to Noren and Mike McCormick, plus singles by Eddie Yost and Klutz, boosted Washington's margin to 7-1 in the fifth and the Senators added two runs in the seventh on Noren's double, McCormick's single and Yost's double.

The Browns picked up their final run in the ninth on Arft's triple and Ken Wood's outfield fly.

Cleveland Decisions Red Sox

Boston, (AP)—Sam Chapman was the big offensive gun yesterday as he got the Cleveland Indians off to a four run first inning, sparking them to an 8-4 triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

A Fenway Park audience of 9,220 saw the erstwhile Philadelphia outfielder bang a three run two base hit and then steal home in the opening inning.

Another Run

Chapman also drove in another run later in the game. Those five runs would have been enough for Cleveland's victory, third in a four game series here.

Mike Garcia, swarthy southern Californian, was credited with his sixth victory although he needed help from ace Bob Lemon in the ninth.

With two Red Sox players on base and none out in the final inning Lemon replaced Garcia.

Ted Williams grounded out but the bases became loaded when Catcher Jim Hegan dropped Vern Stephens' pop fly.

Johnsonville's victory over Portland had the Blue Mountain League talking yesterday, as the win was the first of the season for the former club. The victory made the circuit more evenly matched than at anytime during the present campaign and certainly didn't hurt the situation as far as fan appeal is concerned. If this same Johnsonville contingent can come through on several more occasions during the present campaign, the Blue Mountain League will again draw crowds as it did last year and the season before.

John Polisky, Johnsonville's only winning pitcher of the campaign, graduated this month from East Stroudsburg High school, while Barry Transue, charged with the Portland mound loss, is an East Stroudsburg High graduate and is now attending East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. Tom Foley, pitcher for Roseto last night, is the same Foley that started the present campaign with Analomink, of the Pocono Mountain League. Tom, who enters Penn State this fall, was a member of the ESSTC soccer team last season.

Harry Warner, former first sacker with the Stroudsburg Poconos and an off-season resident of Reeders, continues to hit the ball well for Evansville, Ind., of the class "B" Three I League. Warner recently became the second player of the present season to hit a home run over Evansville's right field wall, a distance of some 380 feet. Warner also had two other hits in that game against Davenport which Evansville won by a 12-4 count. Ron Mrozinski, former Carbondale chucker, is still a member of the Terre Haute, of the same league, pitching staff, but lost his last outing to Waterloo, 5-1. Carbondale was a member of the North Atlantic League before the circuit folded.

Stan Pawolski is dividing his time between third and second base for Cedar Rapids, of the Three I League, at the present time. Pawloski spent part of the 1949 campaign with the Stroudsburg Poconos. Al Gardella, former Bangor and Peekskill, North Atlantic League, manager, is currently holding down first base with the Wilmington Blue Socks, of the class "B" Inter-State League. However, rumors making the rounds indicate that Gardella may retire from baseball to enter the waste-paper business. Gardella recently resigned as manager of the Three Rivers, Que. entry in the class "C" Provincial League.

Donald "Super" Phillips, who pitched a no-hit game in the Stroudsburg Little League on Wednesday night, and lost, has accounted for 60 strikeouts since the present campaign got underway. Phillips' pitching has made the Stroudsburg Security Trust team a serious threat for the title in the first season of official Little League baseball in Stroudsburg. It has also been learned that a mask and breast protector has been given to the umpires working the Little League contests at Stroudsburg Playground.

The mask was donated by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, while the breast protector was presented by Red Top Tavern... An official Little League march has been written and the first recordings of "Little League" are being released on MGM records. Leroy Holmes and his orchestra, with the Holmes vocal quartet, are cutting the platter which is backed by the always popular "Take Me Out to the Ball Game." Russ Bates, who was a member of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College swimming team last winter, is a former basketball star from Carbondale's Benjamin Franklin High school.

Don Hazleton, who looked like a bright first base prospect in the Boston Braves' farm system before breaking a leg last year, is currently having his troubles both from a playing angle and popularity angle in the Wayne County League. Hazleton, who played in class "C" circles last year, was highly respected for his speed, but the leg injury took much of his swiftness away from him. Don is currently holding down the initial sack, for Honesdale.

Dodgers Nip Reds For Roe's Tenth

Cincinnati (AP) — Unbeaten Preacher Roe required the assistance of Carl Erskine in the ninth inning yesterday but was credited with his tenth consecutive victory as the Brooklyn Dodges took the rubber game of their three-game series with the Cincinnati Reds, 6-4.

The Dodger victory, together with St. Louis' victory over New York ,increased Brooklyn's first-place lead over the runnerup Giants to six and one-half games.

Intense Heat

Working under the intense heat and humidity, Roe, the veteran southpaw, yielded 11 hits, one more than his mates collected off five Cincinnati hurlers. He left under fire in the ninth after throwing a home run ball to pinch hitter Roy McMillan and giving up a single to Bobby Adams.

Cards Blank Giants Behind Staley, 2-0

St. Louis (AP) — Gerry Staley throttled the New York Giants with five hits yesterday as he pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to within one and one-half games of second place with a 2-0 victory. It was the righthander's ninth triumph of the season.

Rally

Staley also started the winning rally with a double off loser Sheldon Jones in the third inning. With two out and nobody on base, Staley hit down the left field line for a two-bagger. Solly Hemus singled over second scoring Staley, and reached second when Willie Mays fumbled the ball in centerfield. "Red" Schoendienst crashed a double off the wall in right center, Hemus crossing the plate with the final run.

Jones, making his third start of the year and first since May 28, gave up five hits in seven innings.

Veeck Purchases Browns On Condition That He Obtains Bulk Of Stock By Early July

St. Louis (AP)— Bill Veeck, the fuzzy-haired, open-shirted dynamo of baseball, bought the St. Louis Browns yesterday on the condition he pick up the bulk of stock which he hopes to get by July 4.

The Browns will stay here.

Veeck, former owner of the Cleveland Indians, took what he called "more than an option" on the controlling interest of the American League club held by the DeWitt brothers.

Baseball's idea man—he had fireworks, blaring bands, clowns, tightrope walkers and what have you at Cleveland—refused to say exactly how much stock he wanted besides that of the DeWitts.

With the deal yesterday he has his hands on nearly 60 per cent of it. Veeck, "just call me Bill," explained the deal with the DeWitts this way:

No Trouble

If he gets enough of the outstanding stock from other holders he has to buy that of the DeWitts. He figured he would have no trouble getting what he needed. About 1,400 stockholders in all are involved.

Bill Veeck

Veeck said he set July 4 as a tentative date because some date was needed to spur stockholders to sell.

Mark C. Steinberg, St. Louis investment broker who recently bought a $700,000 second mortgage note on the Browns, said Veeck's deal yesterday gave him 57 or 58 per cent. Steinberg figured Veeck needs between 80 and 84 per cent of the stock "to make the kind of deal he wants." Veeck wouldn't confirm that.

Th deal yesterday included 2,000 shares held by Steinberg. The DeWitts hold about 160,000 of the 300,000 shares. The price agreed upon is $7 a share, just about the present market price.

The affable Veeck, who flew in early yesterday from Chicago, showed up in a blue suit and a white sports shirt opened at the collar for the signing of the agreement with the DeWitts and Donald L. Barnes, former St. Louis Browns owner who negotiated the sale.

Veeck was all smiles. At a press conference he held later, he gave the newsmen the once-over and remarked:

"We've got a better house than the Browns ever had."

Chisox Win Series Final From Yankees

New York (AP)—Sol Rogovin, a recent White Sox acquisition from Detroit, hung a gaudy four-hit, 5-2 defeat around the necks of the New York Yankees yesterday to send the Chicago Hot Shots bounding on to Boston with their three and one-half length lead over the American League looking very solid indeed.

The upstarts from the midway came to town three days ago facing the fight of their lives to prove to the skeptical east that they belonged to the purple. The 122,566 fans who poured into the Stadium for the big series went away thoroughly convinced.

Rogovin's brilliant victory, which gave the "Richards Raiders" an even break in the four-game set, would have been a shutout but for two towering blasts by Johnny Mize which landed, respectively, in the Yankee bullpen and far up in the right field stands.

Exchange

Only three other Yankees reached base off the young righthander, who came to the Sox in exchange for southpaw Bob Cain last month. Mickey Mantle and Gene Woodling each rapped singles and Yogi Berra worked Rogovin for his only free pass. That was the crop.

While Rogovin was running his record to 3-1 since coming under the magic influence of Paul Richards, three Yankee flingers, starting with Frank Shea, were being bounced for 13 solid smacks by the league leaders.

Nellie Fox, sensational young second baseman, led the barrage with a game-opening triple and two singles in four official trips, and Ed Robinson, big first-baseman, weighed in with his thirteenth home run of the season and a single. The Sox had men on the sacks in every round and might have run up a lofty margin but for four timely double plays perpetrated by the Yankee infield.
